FRENCH RECORD FURTHER ADVANCES BY GERMANS

TEUTONS TAKE FORGES, NINE MILES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN

Paris Communication Also Records Success in Repelling German Attempt to Debauch From a Captured Position—Russ Make Landing on Black Sea Coast.

Further advances by the Germans in the Verdun region and in Champagne—are told of in the latest French official communication which however, also records successes in repelling a German attempt to debauch further from a captured position, the driving of the Teutons out of a trench they had taken and the hammering with the French big guns of German organizations. After having vigorously shelled the region between Bethincourt and the Meuse, the Germans in a strong infantry attack captured the village of Forges, about nine miles northwest of Verdun.

Not satisfied with the gain they several times essayed to debauch from the village against the Cote de L'Oie, but the French in counter-attacks forced them back into the village and held them there.

In Champagne the right and left flanks of the French were attacked by the Germans in the region between Mont Tetu and Maisons de Champagne. At the former point the French fire kept the Germans to their trenches, but near Maisons de Champagne they succeeded in occupying a small section of a French trench.

In the Argonne the French blew up near Courtes Chausees, a German post, with a mine and captured a portion of the crater. Near Haute Chavaucheq, the Germans sprang two mines and later entered the French trenches at several points. Counter-attacks however, drove them out and the French also occupied a portion of the mine crater.

Except for the infantry attacks at Forges the guns on both sides in the Verdun region have been doing all the work.

Southwest of Metz near Pont a Moussons, the French artillery has heavily damaged German positions.

The Russians under cover of the fire of the fleet, at last have been able to make a landing on the Black Sea coast to the east Trebizond capturing the towns of Atina and Maprava and driving off the Turks who opposed them. Two officers and 280 men were taken prisoner and two guns and a quantity of munitions were captured.

Considerable fighting between the Russians and the Germans has taken place in Northwest Russia, the Russian artillery smashing German trenches in the Riga sector and dispersing scouting parties in the vicinity of Friedrichstadt.

Owing to the heavy rains and avalanches fighting has almost ceased on the Austro-Italian front. Berlin reports that in the Zeppelin raid over England Sunday night the Hull naval depot was bombed with effect. All the German aircraft returned safely.

A British official report says that Yorkshire, Lincolnshire, Rutland, Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire, Norfolk, Essex and Kent counties were visited. Three men, four women and five children were killed by the bombs dropped and 33 other persons were injured.

The warehouse contained 800,000 bushels of corn and 225,000 bushels of oats. The grain was the property of C. Bartlett & Co., widely known grain dealers.

The cause of the fire is said to have been spontaneous combustion.

Fifty men were thrown out of employment. No one was injured.

SPANISH STEAMER STRIKES ROCK AND SINKS; 445 MISSING

Principe de Asturias Goes to the Bottom in Five Minutes Giving Passengers and Crew Little Time to Escape.

BULLETIN.

RIO JANEIRO, Mar. 6—According to the latest information the number of deaths on the Spanish Passenger Ship Principe de Asturias, which struck a rock and sank off Santos on Sunday will reach almost 500. Among those saved was the new American consul to Santos, Charles Tredek.

The vessel was enroute to Buenos Aires from Barcelona. The catastrophe was caused, it is said, by a thick fog in which the vessel struck a rock and sunk in less than five minutes. The newspapers of this city say that it is reported that the commander of the ship committed suicide at the moment of the accident.

London, Mar. 6—A Lloyds despatch from Santos, Brazil, says that 338 passengers and 107 members of the crew of the Spanish Steamship Principe de Asturias are missing. The steamer was wrecked yesterday off Sebastian Point, the western extremity of the Island of that name near the entrance to Santos Bay by striking a rock. She went to the bottom in five minutes.

The Principe de Asturias was engaged in the passenger service between Barcelonia and Brazil. The last reports of her movements are of her departure on her previous trip eastward. She passed Gibbaltar, Feb. 4th, on her way from Buenos Aires to Barcelonia.

She was a large and comparatively new vessel. Her gross tonnage was 8,371. She was built at Port Glasgo, in 1914 and owned by the Pinellos Izquierdo y Cia, of Valdez, Spain.

Believe Four Hundred Are Dead.

Dio Janeiro, Mar. 6—It is feared here that 400 lives have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish Steamship Principe de Asturias. The steamer remained afloat only a short time after striking a shoal off San Sebastian and there was little time for escape of passengers and crew in the boats. Steamers have gone out to search for additional survivors, 143 of the passengers and crew having already been landed at Santos.

Report One Hundred Lost.

Buenos Aires, Mar. 6—The agents of the Spanish trans-Atlantic line have received reports that about 100 persons lost their lives in the sinking of the Steamship Principe de Asturias off the coast off Brazil.

CONSIDER SELECTION OF JURY FOR LORIMER TRIAL COMPLETE

Attorneys Agree to Consider the Jury as Sworn and Then Adjourn Until Wednesday.

Chicago, Mar. 6—The selection of a jury for the trial of William Lorimer under indictment in connection with the failure of the LaSalle Trust & Savings Bank, was considered completed shortly before noon today. The attorneys agreed to consider the jury as sworn and then adjourned until Wednesday morning because of the absence of Judge Dever on account of illness. The twelfth juror selected is Joseph H. Berning a photograph engraver. Judge Dever is not expected to be able to return to his duties before Wednesday.

Owen D. Kinsey a locomotive engineer one of the veiremer excused this morning said a man had questioned him last Wednesday about his attitude toward Mr. Lorimer and that he believed him to be an investigator for the defense.

"I told him I had known Lorimer six or seven years and did not think very much of him," said Kinsey.

"The man then told me that they didn't want any one on the jury who would soak Lorimer."

The attorneys on both sides dismissed the incident as of no consequence.

SUB-COMMITTEE AGREES ON WAGE INCREASES

ACTION WILL BE REPORTED TO JOINT CONFERENCE FOR RATIFICATION

Increases May Annually Approximate Eigh Million Dollars or More in Soft Coal Fields of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

New York, March 6.—Wage increases that may annually approximate eight million dollars or more in the soft coal fields of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois were agreed upon late today by the sub-committee of bituminous operators and miners for those states who are here negotiating a new contract to go into effect April 1. The action of the subcommittee will be reported for ratification probably tomorrow to the full joint conference of operators and miners. In the meantime the session of the joint subcommittee of anthracite miners and operators fixed for tomorrow has been deferred until Wednesday afternoon to permit the mines to complete their negotiations with the bituminous employes.

The action taken today will have effect upon the wage contracts to be settled in other states.

Nearly 200,000 men will benefit by the increases in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Aside from the general increase of three cents a ton granted by the coal companies, the miners in western Pennsylvania won the mine run system of paying wages, something the officers of the union say they have been striving to obtain for thirty years. The mine run system adds 2.39 cents a ton to the miners' wages and gives them about $1,250,000 a year, not counting the three cents a ton general increase also won by them. The mine run was bitterly fought by Pittsburgh operators, but was agreed thru the persistence of the officers of the western Pennsylvania district, strongly supported by the international officials of the miners' union.

The wage increases allowed on the mine run basis in Illinois are three cents a ton on machine mining, making the rate 54 cents a ton and pick mining three cents to 64. Indiana operators agree to increase the machine mining rate 3 1-2 cents to 52 cents a ton and three cents is added to pick coal, making the rate 64 cents. Thus the difference between Illinois and Indiana is reduced a half cent. The Indiana miners were not satisfied with the 3 1-2 cents increase in their state, they having asked for 5 1-2 advance.

The wage increases allowed in western Pennsylvania are 5.39 cents a ton on machine mining, making the rate 59 cents a ton and three cents for pick mining, advancing this rate to 67.64 cents a ton.

In Ohio machine mining is increased three cents a ton on machine coal to 59 cents. Three cents a ton is added on pick mining in the Jackson, Pomeroy, Crooksville and Tuscarawas districts, bringing the rate up to about 70.6 cents.

Besides the increase agreed upon the tonnage production the subcommittee also voted an advance of 5 per cent on dead work and yardage and 5 per cent on wages paid men by the day.

The official demands called for increases of 10 per cent on tonnage, 1 per cent on dead work, and yardage and 20 per cent for day labor.

The mine workers gradually scaled down their demands until an agreement was reached.

Among the demands that the miners will not be granted are an eight hour day from bank to bank, weekly pay days and provides that every other Saturday be an idle day. Before the subcommittee submits a report to the full conference it will have to agree on the number of years the contract is to run and on the demand relating to the settlement of international differences by districts.

Ohio operators from the districts which agreed to a three cent increase for pick mining showed some dissatisfaction tonight because the operators in several other Ohio districts has only to make an advance for pick mining of a fraction of a cent to be on the level with western Pennsylvania.

NINE ARE DEAD; ELEVEN BADLY BURNED IN FIRE

DEATH LIST IN EL PASO JAIL BLAZE MAY REACH TWENTY

Flash of Flames Bursting from Tanks in Which Prisoners Were Being Given Disinfecting Baths Cause Fire—American Motorman Is Shot.

BULLETIN.

EL PASO, Texas, March 7—Eighteen victims of the explosion late yesterday afternoon at the city jail were dead early this morning.

Several more deaths were expected.

Phelps, the motorman who was shot, was removed to a hospital here where it was said his condition was critical. Car service between Juarez and El Paso was suspended after the shooting. The Mexican consul here said a determined effort was being made to apprehend the assailant of the motorman.

Among those who died late tonight was an American named Alan R. Odum of Stanton, Texas.

El Paso, Tex., March 6.—Nine dead, eleven probably fatally burned, and a score or more less seriously injured was the toll of an explosion and fire tonight at the city jail. The name of one American said to be F. M. Cross of Davenport, Ia., is included in the list of dead and a number are seriously burned.

Surgeons said tonight that the death list probably would reach twenty and that many of the injured would live only a few hours.

Charles Phelps, an American motorman, was shot and seriously wounded while running his car in Juarez tonight by an unidentified man. The shooting, according to Andreas Garcia, Mexican consul here, followed a report circulated in Juarez that 200 Mexicans had been jailed and burned to death here. Garcia said that General Gabriel Gavira had ordered out soldiers to maintain order. Eighteen men aboard the car fled when the shooting began. A flash of flames bursting from tanks in which prisoners, including many Mexicans, were being given disinfecting baths in the campaign to prevent the spread of disease from Mexico, started the jail fire. A match, lighted by one of the "bathers" in disregard of orders was said by officials to have caused the explosion and fire.

H. C. Bagby, one of the "trusties" on guard at the time, made a statement to Mayor Tom Lea tonight in which he declared that a match had been lighted by H. M. Cross, an American prisoner, who died of his injuries. Mayor Lea immediately ordered an investigation. Firemen quartered in another part of the building quickly extinguished the blaze.

Cross, the American, who died of injuries, was named as the man alleged to have struck the match. Cross was under arrest as a vagrant. His home is said to have been in Davenport, Ia. Thirty-eight men, it was said early tonight, had been taken to the county hospital. The burst of flames blew out doors and windows and the blaze swept the hospital, rendering it useless for emergency work which followed.

On fire from head to foot, the nude victims dashed into the streets and alleys surrounding the prison. One of the victims, a verible torch, plunged thru the jagged remains of a window only to die a few minutes later. Every vestige of hair was burned from the heads of all of the other victims and the flesh of many of them was crisped by the fire.

A number of them were blinded. A majority of the inmates were out at work at the time. Under direction of Dr. G. B. Calnan, chief police surgeon, who was slightly injured, the prisoners were taken from the steel tanks, disrobed and placed one by one in the disinfecting baths.

Dr. Calnan had issued strict orders that no matches were to be lighted or cigarettes smoked during the disinfection process.

"Trusties" were stationed about corridors to see that the order was obeyed. Despite these precautions according to a statement by a trusty to Mayor Tom Lea tonight two prisoners were seen to light matches.

COMMITTEE OF LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS TO MEET DR. DYSON

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 6—A committee of livestock shippers appointed at the recent Galesburg meeting is to meet here tomorrow at the office of Dr. O. E. Dyson, a state veterinerian for the purpose of threshing out disputed points on the cleaning and disinfecting railroad cattle cars. The railroads are charging the cattle shippers for cleaning the cares while the shippers contend the cost should be borne by the railroads. This matter is now up before the state public utilities commission for settlement.

"The law requiring the cleaning and disinfecting of cattle cars has been on the statute books for some time," said Dr. Dyson today. The order issued by this office merely provided for the enforcing of the law. If only healthy stock was being shipped disinfecting would not be necessary. But we know that some of the stock getting into these cars is not healthy. Therefore if we are to protect the livestock owners generally cars must be disinfected and cleaned."

VICE-PRESIDENT SPEAKS BEFORE CHICAGO BAR

MARSHALL PAYS TRIBUTE TO JUSTICE CHARLES E. HUGHES

CHICAGO, Mar. 6—Vice-president Marshall in an address tonight before the Chicago Bar association paid tribute to Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes for his refusal to permit his name to be considered for the presidential nomination.

"How splendid a tribute to that great body (the supreme court it is that Mr. Justice Hughes has promptly refused to permit his name to be used as a candidate for President of the United States," said the vice-president. "This refusal makes him as great an American as tho he were president pulled hither and thither by the contending hopes of fears of politicians.

"We judge life by its best and not by its worst product," he continued. "The greatness of the American Bar is therefore disclosed by the supreme court of the United States. The man who becomes a member of the supreme court is somewhat sobered by the weighty responsibilities and for the rest of his life he is a vestal virgin trimming the lamps at the alter of equal and exact justice. Voluntarily he blinds his eyes to politics and withdraws from the fever and tumult of political life! He ceases to be an individual, and becomes a part of the machinery." The vice-president staunchly upheld President Wilson in his diplomatic negotiations with nations at war.

"Jitney jurists in international law," he said "may continue to write letters to the papers tending to provoke war, or may cease to write them, but the president of the United States will continue, not only to uphold our honor but to preserve our peace without any loss of our self respect.

"It is idle longer to disguise the fact that there are in the republic many men, who, having disregarded the warning of the president would gladly see our country plunged into war in order to assist the allies, and, opposed is another class which that the president when insisting upon what has hitherto been the rights of neturals in warfare, is not insisting as an American but as an ally.

One class seeks to goad him on by charges of cowardice, the other seeks to deter him by declaring that he is not sincere in his expressed desire of maintaining neutrality and preserving the peace of the country.

"If there be any body of men in Aemica who ought to resent the views of both these classe, it is the lawyers of the land. For fairness and justice they have a passion. They ought to believe that the sole interest of the president is his interest in the welfare of the American people and his interest in those principles of neutrality which are essential to their honor.

"As the present writes of Abraham Lincon the future will write of Woodrow Wilson."

DISCUSSES NEED FOR EDUCATION INCIDENT TO BABY WEEK

ANDREW RUSSEL.

Rights Committee Rampant.

The American rights committee of New York City is to call a mass meeting for the advocacy of American participation in the war on the side of the allies. The call, while in direct violation of the president's appeal to the country for moral neutrality, is said not to be a violation of any law upon the statute books. The best method of handling the rights committee is to open an enlistment office just next door to their headquarters and let all who are anxious to fight make immediate enlistment for active service.

Practical Punishment.

A very unusual but very sensible sentence was that given by a police justice in Richberg, N. Y. A seventeen year old girl was arraigned before him charged with being incorrigible, and the justice sentenced her to wash the dishes in her home. It is presumed that other house work was added to the sentence and that the court required an occasional report as to the progress made. The justice evidently recognized that with the influence of the home surroundings, that this girl would no doubt speedily control her inclinations toward wrong doing. Many a person guilty of some petty offense is led to much more serious wrong doing because real humanity is not exercised in the consideration of that first offense.

New Charge Against Women.

Just about the meanest charge ever made against women is that contained in the report of the chairman of the fire prevention committee of the Safety First Federation of America, which declares that the majority of all fires in the United States, except those due to lightning, dynamite and fire-bugs, are started by women. This charge is explained by the fact that it is the feminine zeal for cleanliness that starts so many conflagrations, and that familiarity with gasoline breeds contempt. In thousands of households gasoline is used for every conceivable purpose from cleaning gloves to killing insects, but if the price of gasoline continues to soar as it has done in recent months, carelessness in its use is likely to stop in very large degree as an economy measure.

Canadian Dry Sentiment.

Something new in dry demonstrations will be tried in Toronto tomorrow, when 1,000 automobiles will escort the province wide petition for prohibition which is to be delivered on a motor truck. At least 50,000 people it is believed will march in the parade, and the petition bears the signatures of fully a million people. The petition asks for a measure prohibiting the sale of alcohol as a beverage, or the submission of such a measure for popular vote. In Canada, as in all countries intimately connected with the European war, there has been a marvelous advance in anti-liquor sentiment, and there are strong indications that the desired legislation will be placed upon the statute books.

The Next Inauguration.

The time when Woodrow Wilson's successor will be inaugurated is occasioning some discussion in Washington. March 4, 1917, will fall on Sunday, and according to the constitution the president's term expires at noon on that day. Now the question is, will the next president be inaugurated on Sunday, or if not, who will be the president from noon March 4, until the time of inauguration? Democrats will doubtless come forward with the suggestion that an easy remedy to the difficulty will be to elect Wilson his own successor.

Better Fire Equipment.

As will be noticed in the advertisement for bids elsewhere in this paper, the city council is planning to to add two motor trucks to the fire department equipment. A motor truck of the kind for which Commisioner Matrin has drawn specificationse is a combination chemical and hose wagon. In a great many instances fire losses would be insignificant if it were possible to use the chemical engine soon after the flames are discovered. It is to meet such contingency that the new apparatus is planned. Increased fire protection will be beneficial to the public as a whole and money spent in this direction will be justified and pay good interest return on the investment thru the saving effected.

A Silent Envoy.

Colonel House, the president's personal envoy to Europe, has returned home. The only statement that he has given out since leaving the steamer Roterdam, on which he arrived Sunday, entitles him to still be known as "the silent man of mystery." All the information that the colonel gave to newspaper men was that his movements abroad had been fully reported in the press and that he had nothing to say. President Wilson, in his choice of a representative for this mission, certainly chose a man whom he could depend upon not to talk, and really that is one of the most important features of the mission, no matter what it may have been. It is certainly to the credit of this Texan, who now has such a large place in public life, that he seems to have no personal ambition to gratify, no friends he wants to have appointed to office and is really trying to do all the good he can for the country by giving advice to the president.

Miners and Operators Likely to Agree.

Indications were yesterday that because of mutual concessions the joint session of miners and operators would reach an agreement at their conference in the east. The sub-committee agreed upon certain advances to the miners in four states, including Illinois, and if this agreement is ratified by the general committee, then there will be no shutdown of the mines April 1. It is greatly to be hoped that the sub-committee agreement is ratified, for a mine strike or an extended shutdown would interfere greatly with manufacturing conditions, and the season which has opened up satisfactorily would be disturbed. The proposed increases with normal produciton will mean about $8,000,000 more for the miners in wages and altho the public must pay this bill, the public will be pleased if a strike is averted.

PATRIOTISM.

The following editorial by Lyman Abbott will appear in The Outlook tomorrow:

"A nation is made great, not by its fruitful acres, but by the men who cultivate them; not by its great forests, but by the men who use them; not by its mines, but by the men who work them; not by the railways, but by the men who build and run them. America was a great land when Columbus discovered it; Americans have made of it a great Nation.

In 1776 our fathers had a vision of a new Nation "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." Without an army they fought the greatest of existing world empires that they might realize this vision. A third of a century later, without a navy they fought the greatest navy in the world that they might win for their Nation the freedom of the seas. Half a century later they fought through an unparalled Civil War that they might establish for all time on this continent the inalienable right of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. A third of a century later they fought to emancipate an oppressed neighbor, and, victory won, gave back Cuba to the Cubans, sent an army of schoolmasters to educate for liberty the Filipinos, asked no war indemnity from their vanquished enemy, but paid him liberally for his property. Meanwhile they offered land freely to any farmer who would live upon and cultivate it, opened to foreign immigrants on equal terms, the door of industrial opportunity, shared with them political equality, and provided by universal taxation for universal education.

"The cynic who can see in this history only a theme for his egotistical satire is no true American, whatever his parentage, whatever his birthplace. He who looks with pride upon this history which his fathers have written by their heroic deeds, who accepts with gratitude the inheritance which they have bequeathed to him, and who highly resolves to perserve this inheritance unimpaired and to pass it on to his descendants enlarged and enriched, is a true American, be his birthplace or his parentage what it may.

Lyman Abbott."

HOUSE AND HOME

"I own my house, but have no home," said J. Augustus Cork, as wearily he tried to comb his whiskers with a fork. "My house is strictly up to date, with every modern fad, and visitors pronounce it great, and think I should be glad. An English butler buttles round, and wields a frozen stare; imported maids are on the ground, to comb my lady's hair. And I have works of art to burn, all swell and 123456123456reshershay, with here a bust or Grecian urn, and there 'The Stag at Bay.' No kids along the hallway rush, or bump along the stair, but over all's a solemn hush, as tho a corpse were there. The kids would like full well to romp, and raise a howdydo, but they must live up to our pomp and vulgar noise eschew. I have a house but not a home, and hence my air of gloom; this mansion with it's gaudy dome, is cheerless as a tomb. I'd like to swap this swell abode, with all its works of art, for that cheap cottage down the road, where first we made our start."

MR. CLAYTON M. STEWART WEDS MISS BEULAH ESTHER ERIXON

Pretty Ceremony Monday Afternoon at Home of Bride's Parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Erixon—Couple will Live Near Exeter.

Miss Beulah Esther Erixon became the bride of Mr. Clayton M. Stewart in a pretty home wedding Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Erixon, 269 Webster avenue. The young people were attended by Fred Stewart, brother of the groom, and Miss Helen Wheeler. The ring ceremony was used and Rev. F. B. Madden, pastor of Grace M. E. church, in an impressive manner pronounced the words that made the young people before him husband and wife. Miss Ruth Wheeler very capably played the wedding march of Mendelssohn as the bridal pair entered the parlor.

Congratulations many and hearty followed and then all sat down to a fine wedding dinner supplied by Major and Mrs. E. C. Vickery of the Colonial Inn.

The bride was arrayed in a costume of white taffeta and chiffon with tulle veil and carried bride's roses and sweet peas. Miss Wheeler wore a costume of Georgiette crepe and chiffon and a corsage boquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

The ceremony took place in front of a handsome embankment of ferns and the parlor was handsomely decorated with flowers and ferns. The color scheme of the dining room was yellow and white. A large number of handsome and useful presents indicated the esteem in which the young people are held by a large circle of friends and relatives.

There was an elegant wedding cake and in cutting it Dr. John Stewart secured the ring; Miss Ellen Wheeler the dime and Miss Grace Wheeler the darning needle.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rexroat of Concord, grandparents of the bride; J. D. Erixon of Ebenezer, grandfather of the bride; Howard Rexroat of Macomb, Miss Bernice Murphy of Coicord; Dr. John Stewart of Exeter, Lee Rexroat of Concord, Vernon Rexroat of Arenzville, Mr. and Mrs. James Middleton of Ebenezer, Miss Pearl Bridgman of the vicinity of Ebenezer.

The groom is the son of the late Dr. C. M. Stewart of this city and comes of one of the leading families of Scott county. His mother now resides in this city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Erixon, also a well known family of this community.

After a short wedding trip the young people will live on a farm near Exeter.

STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS HAD PECULIAR CASE IN COURT.

A case tried before Judge Stephen A. Douglas, recalled by an old Jacksonville resident, brings to mind some of the long continued litigation of the present day. The point of dispute was the ownership of a heifer and was between two neighboring farmers. Each had several witnesses and at the end of three trials the jury failed to agree. At the end of the fourth the jury said that they found that the heifer should be sold and the proceeds applied to the costs accomulated and that the two litigants should each pay half of the remainder. One attorney protested that one or the other of the litigants should be declared winner and the other should pay the costs. The other attorney said nothing.

Judge Douglas took the case under advisement a few moments and then said that altho it wasn't strictly according to law nevertheless the verdict was just and he would let it stand. The contestants sensibly refrained from appealing, the sheriff sold the heifer on the square in Macomb and the litigants paid the rest of the costs.

J. H. S. LITERARY SOCIETIES ATTEND BAPTIST REVIVAL

Good Intrest Manifest at Opening of Second Week—J. B. C. Students to Attend "Business Night."

Tonight will be known as business night at the revival at the First Baptist Church. A special delegation will be present from Brown's Business College and Mr. Stephens will preach on "Pilate's Predicament."

The first week of the revival has been unusually successful. So far forty-eight have professed conversion. On Sunday evening the church auditorium was over-crowded and many were turned away. Dean Arthur L. Brabrook, of Chicago who represented the Gideons at the morning service spoke briefly at night and the Rev. Percy W. Stephens, delivered an address, "Morning and Night."

The singing was of the highest grade. Mr. Allen, drilled the audience in a masterly way and the big choir rendered two or three special numbers. Harry Beckman sang a solo.

At the opening of Sunday night service about twelve revival converts were baptised. Others are to be baptised at the opening of the service Wednesday night.

Last night was known as Young People's night and a special delegation was present from two societies of the high school the Forum and Adelphian.

With much enthusiasm the high school students gave their high school yell and added a second and third yell on what is the matter with Mr. Stephens, and then what is the matter with Mr. Allen concluding that they are both all right. Mr. Beckman assisted Mr. Allen in a duet.

The topic of the sermon was the Parable of the Rich Young Ruler, who was very sucessful in life, but was a little behind handed regarding an entire surrender to Christ.

The speaker pointed out that the young man was very earnest; Second: That he was very humble; Third: That he was very moral: but with all these virtues to his favor Chtrist said, "One thing thou lackest," and all were urged to receive that one thing which makes life complete, Faith in Christ.

REPUBLICAN PARTY CHIEFTAINS WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

Andrew Russel Termed An Enigma In the Political Situation—All Gubernatorial Candidates To Attend Meeting.

The Chicago Post is referring to the big gathering of Republicans to be held at Princeton Thursday, terms Andrew Russel the enigma of down state politics The Post's story is the following:

"Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican presidential candidate, is scheduled to make the chief address at a Republican love feast to be held in Princeton, Ill., next Thursday, to which all party chieftains have been invited and which some leaders thought today may witness the formal launching of the G. O. P. campaign in this state. Presidential, gubernatorial and state politics in general are to be discussed, the leaders asert.

"A special train over the Burlington will leave Chicago Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. The gathering was called as the annual meeting of the Swedish-American Republican League, but the program calls for turning the affair into a love feast after the transaction of the league's business.

"To Get Down to Tacks."

"The routine events of the league are to be taken up at 6:30 p. m. and about 8 o'clock the politicians expect to get down to the regular business making political speeches. Duringf the day factional friends and foes will hobnob in Princeton, and alliances in various forms are certain to come up.

"Prominent Republican leaders who are to travel in the special train from Chicago are:

"Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, Mayor William Hale Thompson, Edward J. Brundage, former Governor Charles S. Deneen, Roy O. West, Colonel Frank O. Lowden, Oregon, Ill.; Colonel Frank Smith, Dwight, Ill.; Walter A. Rosenfield, Rock Island; O. P. Berry, Carthage; William Colvin, Sprinfield; Medill McCormick, Homer J. Tice, Greenview; Andrew Russel, Jacksonville, and Louis E. Emmerson, Mount Vernon.

Russel an Enigma.

"Russel is an enigmatic figure in the present political situation and his status may be setled when the powwow has completed its work. He has been variously spoken of as a candidate for governor and lieutenant governor. Frank O. Lowden, whose friends claim he has three-fifths of the downstate vote sewed up, and Colonel Frank Smith, the Dwight banker, are the leading rivals for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination. Whether Lowden will use the occasion to make formal declaration of his candidacy remains to be seen.

"In any event Colonel Smith's friends reiterate that nothing can induce the banker to retire from the contest in favor of Lowden or any other aspirant. Tice and Emerson are also candidates for places on the G. O. P. state ticket."

MISS DOWNING HAD PROPHETIC VISION OF LIFE'S UNCERTAINTY

Passages Marked by Young Girl Who Died so Suddenly Indicate Unusual Quality of Mind.

The sudden death of Miss Jean Downing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Downing, in Kansas City, was recently recorded. A Kansas City paper, furnished the Journal by George W. Swales, indicates that the young girl had almost a prophetic instinct of death's approach. The newspaper article referred to was as follows:

"Quotations and passages, marked by Jean Downing, of such a nature as to seem almost prophetic of her early death, formed a large part of the funeral sermon read for her yesterday afternoon.

"Miss Downing, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Downing, 520 East Armour boulevard, died Monday, after a short illness. Burial was in Mount Washington cemetery.

"'To die early is not to fail,' was one of the favorite passages, and the first read yetsterday by Rev. Morris H. Turk.

"Dr. Turk's tribute to the young girl was peculiarly fitting. He told of her spiritual character, her buoyancy, her hearty disposition, and the energy that made her chief among her companions in studies and athletics.

"One passage marked in printed sermons and a Bible by Miss Downing shortly before her death was:

"'The eye that shuts in the dying hour
Will open next in bliss;
The welcome will sound in the heavenly world
Ere the farewell is said in this.'

"Another reads:

"'One ship drives east and another west
With the self-same winds that blow;
It's the set of the sails, and not the gales,
That tells us which way to go.'"

GRANDSON OF REV. PETERS IS MURDERED NEAR OREGON HOME

Former Resident Here and His Wife Shot Down by Neighbor—No Motive Given in Papers For Crime Which Reads Like That of a Madman.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Akers, the former at one time a resident of this county, were shot and killed recently near their farm home in Oregon. Particluars of the tragedy were told in newspaper clippings received by a number of Jacksonville people. The following is from a paper brought to the Journal office by Lycurgus Goheen.

Grants, Pass, Or., Feb. 28—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Akers, lying at the Grants Pass morgue, bespeak the utter defenselessness with which they met their fate yesterday at the hands of a brutal murderer.

The arm of Mr. Akers, raised before his eyes as if to defend his sight from the horror of so unsuspected an assault, is pierced and torn by at least four bullet holes.

The Akers family and Bousman lived on adjoining tracts on Bull Creek, four miles from Wilderville and ten miles from Grants Pass, a half mile or more from the main county road.

Attack Is Related.

Bousman relates how he heard Akers harness his team preparatory to going to Wilderville to Sunday school when he slipped down into the brush to ambush him. Once he says his courage forsook him and he determined he could not kill them.

Turning homeward he saw Akers and his wife rounding a little bend in the road almost upon him and suddenly he saw red and began firing. His first shot took effect on one of the horses, when Mrs. Akers, terror-stricken, implored him to desist from his bloody assault.

She was shot thru the lungs and instantly killed. According to Bousman's story, Akers then attempted to alight from the wagon to defend himself when Bousman poured a volley of lead into him and continued firing until all his ammunition was gone, seven shells in all. Both horses were shot, although one did not die until witnesses arrived at the scene of the murder late in the afternoon.

Coroner's Jury Gives Verdict.

The Coroner's jury indicted Bousman for the death of both Mr. and Mrs. Akers. Bousman will waive preliminary hearing and be bound over to grand jury, which meets in April, when he probably will be indicted for murder in the second degree.

It is believed that Bousman will plead guilty in Circuit Court. Feeling against Bouseman is running high in the Wilderville district and when Bousman was arrested last night he refused to admit the Sheriff until assured there was no danger of mob violence.

Bouseman had attempted to end his life with poison, but took an overdose which acted as an emetic. He recounts his deed with utmost composure.

Commissioner J. Edgar Martin has been appointed by Lewis G. Stevenson, secretary of state, as automobile investigator for this county. It will be Mr. Martin's duty to call the attention of those who violate the automobile law to that statute and if advisable to consult with the state's attorney and have prosecutions made. The law passed by the last legislature provided for the appointment of such investigators in the various counties of the state. WITH SWISS SYSTEM UNITED STATES WOULD NOT RUSH TO WAR

Every Father and Mother With a Son in the Reserves Would Feel That Their Boy Might Fall---Gomners and Furuseth See the Need of National Preparedness.

(From the Spokane Spokesman-Review.)

Significant was the action of the American Federation of Labor, in annual convention at San Francisco, in voting down a resolution to condemn all military influences in the public schools.

Offered two years ago, before the start of the European war, a resolution of that tenor probably would have gone thru with little opposition, whether it came before the Federation of Labor, a farmers' convention, or a gathering of bankers and business men.

The hope then mounted high—amounting to a conviction in many minds—that a new thought and a broadened consciousness had put great wars aside. Minor differences were henceforth to be adjusted by diplomacy, and major differences were to yield to The Hague tribunal and other agencies of arbitration.

Socialists thought, and the belief seemed not improbable, that the vast growth of socialism in Europe and its spread of the gospel of international brotherhood, had very largely abolished the spirit of warring nationalism. "Brothers will no longer fire upon brothers," was their contention. "German socialists will refuse, if put to the test, to shoot down their brothers in France and England, and French and British socialists will not murder their German brothers in battle." European militarism, it was confidently thought by many, was on the point of crumbling to collapse.

Gompers and Furuseth Yield

But the stern lessons of the past year have shown how futile were these altruistic expectations. Socialists of Germany, France, Great Britain and the other warring countries are fighting with grim determination to uphold their governments and crush their enemies in battle. Socialism is seen to have been only the thinnest veneer on the deep and controlling spirit of nationalism.

Noted labor leaders and thinkers like Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union and and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, recognizing the stern truths taught by the lessons of the European war, have taken a stand for national preparedness. Apparently Mr. Furuseth and Mr. Gompers have strong inclinations toward the Swiss system of universal military training.

Mr. Furuseth told the San Francisco convention that he "looked forward to the time when the boy at school would be trained and drilled and taught to take care of himself, which, in his mind, would give assurance that this country would not become a land of 'long-haired men and short-haired women.'"

Double Influence for Peace

President Gompers said that it had not been intended that the question of preparedness should come up at this time—that the plan had been to consider it more especially. "But now that we are on the subject," said Mr. Gompers, "I would not have the military forces controlled by a select few. I want them in the hands of the democracy—in the control of the great masses of the people."

The Swiss system keeps the defense forces of the nation in the hands of the people, and therein lies its great merit. It is doubly a powerful influence for peace.

First, by the restraint it puts upon aggressive and empire seeking nations to leave severely alone a nation that is known to have millions of its young men trained for national defense.

Second, by the powerful curb it puts on the defending nation itself to hold its people from engaging lightly in war. With universal service the cost of war is brought home to every fireside that has enrolled in the reserves a son, a grandson or a nephew.

"My boy may be called," says the mother. "My son may have to march to the front," thinks the father. "The youth of my family and my friends will have to respond," considers the senator and the representative in congres.

Would Not Rush Into War.

With that thought in the minds of millions of parents, no group of jingoes could rush this country lightly into war. The personal equation would be felt everywhere—out on the farms, in the lumber and mining camps, in shop and factory and counting house.

Instead of fostering war, as some thoughtless people imagine, the Swiss plan of preparedness fosters and all but insures enduring peace. It makes the nation thus defended terrible to its envious foes, and it makes war a dreadful possibility in the homes. It would restrain others from attacking us, and it would restrain us from attacking others.

It is effective, just and beneficial. It builds up the individual thru military instruction and discipline and it makes the nation more efficient and more productive. It is education of the highest order, and the cost of it all would be but an ounce in price against a pound in benefits.

WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER

Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.

To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.

Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders—one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.

K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

FRICTION DOES NOT MAERIALIZE

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Mar. 6—The expected friction between President M. E. Justice, head of the Central association baseball clubs, and President J. D. Burtner, of Waterloo, did not materialize in the meeting of the league heads which took place in this city today.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Washington—When Minneapolis sent to Congress the first blind man to serve in the House of Representatives, it also sent to the Capital one of the most interesting of Western women. She is Mrs. Thomas D. Schall, wife of the new Congressman. She serves as "his eyes", as she has long served him in the courtrooms when he was a lawyer in Minnesota. It is told of her that when an accident blinded her husband, she took a position as a school teacher to keep up the family income. She entered an evening law school and read law for two years. Then she went into her husband's office, helped him to draw his briefs, work up his cases, and try them before judges and juries. Last spring she campaigned with him in the fight to go to Congress. Victory came to them, and Washington has greeted them with open arms. The wonderful little women who brought all this about was Miss Margaret Huntley before her marriage. The Schalls have two children, who are well cared for, despite the heavy work done at the Capitol.

Philadelphia—Miss Eunice Morgan Schenck, who comes of a prominent family in this city, will become the new Dean of Bryn Mawr College at the beginning of the next college term. She is a daughter of Mrs. Pendleton Schenck, and was graduated from Bryn Mawr in 1907. She received her Ph. D. degree in 1913, and has been an associate professor of French literature. Dean Schenck succeeds Dean Marion Reilly, who has resigned.

London—Five more women astronmers will be selected at the annual meeting of the Royal Astronomical society, at the March meeting. The first five women ever to be admitted to membership were elected at a recent meeting. In order to recognize women's work in the field of astronomy, the famous Royal Society obtained a supplementary charter from King George. The admission of women into the big scientific societies of Great Britain removes an important barrier along one of the principal routes of advancement of the sex. It is one of the most important concessions that scientists have made, for it is believed that scientific societies in all other countries will follow the example set here.

Newark, N. J.—Miss Delphia N. Culver, for six years past superintendent of the Chicago Juvenile House of Detention, has entered on her duties as head of the new parental school in Newark. She is in charge of the equipping of the new school, and is selecting the staff for the school. The reputation which she earned at Chicago has attracted wide attention, and many cities that are contemplating new parental schools are watching her methods here.

St. Louis—Another American woman of rare beauty and culture is preparing to take her place in the official society of Europe. She is Mrs. David Rowland Francis, wife of the former Secretary of the Interior and ex-governor of Missouri, who is to go to Petrograd. Playing the role of a prominent figure in society is not at all new to Mrs. Francis. Since her marriage, she has been a leader of society in this city. She was a great social success in Washington during the Cleveland administration. She is wealthy in her own right, highly educated, endowed with artistic talents, and possesses that tact and charm which will go a long way toward the success of the American embassy in the Czars capital.

THE ATHLETES

"Our new boarder is a famous all-around athlete," announced the landlady. "He has several beautiful medals he has won at tournaments and other contests."

"Athletes never appealed to me," said the star boarder. "They are well enough in their proper place, the track, the diamond, the mat or ring, but their proper place is not a moral family boarding house, where the patrons are expected to pay in advance, whether they have the money or no.

"The athelete, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, takes a fatuous pride in his physical strength, and is always trying to demonstrate it. If he shakes your hand, he puts a pressure of about eigth tons to the square inch into it, and you can't use that organ again until the numbness goes out of it, which may be several hours later. I used to have a college friend who reaped many laurels upon the football field and in the gynasium, and when he came back home for a vacation, I met him on the street and shook hands with him.

"He threw his whole weight into the operation, and for several hours my hand felt as tho made of gutta percha. You could push pins or shinglenails into it, and I would experience no sensation whatever. Fortunately at that period I was on friendly terms with a genuine professional athlete, a wrestler of national reputation, and he happened to be in town at the time.

"I went and had an interview with him, and promised to see that he had a great send off in the newspapers if he would do a little favor for me, and he agreed with enthusiasm. All I asked of him was permission to introduce him to Alexander Sidebar, my college friend, and his promise to shake hands with all the fervor he was capable of.

"He went along with me, and after we had walked a few blocks we encountered Alexander. He had been shaking hands with old friends all along the street, and I could see the old friends holding up their damaged fins and blowing on them. I took my professional friend up to him, and said, 'Mr Sidebar, let me introduce Mr. Doppelganger.'

"They clasped hands and stood there shaking while you could count twenty, and it was refreshing to see the cold perspiration gathering on Alexander's brow. He tried to look as tho he were enjoying himself, but his face turned the color of a back number lemon, and presently he quit doing the Spartan act, and just yelled blue murder, and when Mr. Doppelganger let go, he sat down on the sidewalk and clasped his bosom and wept.

"From that time forward the young man let the athletics slide, and devoted himself to his books with such success that he got a fine position as floorwalker in the Gold Brick store."

RAILROAD MUST PAY INCOME TAX ON STOCK PROFITS

Cincinnati, Mar. 6—By decision of Judge Hollister in the U. S. District Court, in the government's suit against the Big Four railroad to recover taxes alleged to be due on income of the company for the year 1909, the railroad must pay the income tax of $814,291 in profits which the Big Four received thru the sale of shares of the stock of the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. and which was not returned by the company for taxation under the Federal income tax law. Also, the court holds, the half million alleged to have been embezzled from the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Co. by former Treasurer Warriner is not such a loss as is deductible under the provisions of the Federal income tax law. The railroad contended that while it was true that the profit was received in 1909, it could not be considered as income for that year, in view of the fact that the value of the stock had been increasing for several years. The defendant also sought to deduct from its income the loss which it sustained thru the shortage in the office of its treasurer.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments—Try This!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, maded, dry, scraggy or to oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? —Adv.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Adv.

WESTON DEFEATS MATURO.

CHICAGO, ar. 6—Charles Weston of Chicago defeated James Maturo of Denver in the National Pocket Billard meet today, 100 to 91 after the hardest fought game of the tournament. Up to the twenty-third inning, Maturo led but he then made three successive scratches, the last one giving Weston a set up on which he ran fifteen balls. Maturo scored the high run of the game, a 27 in the sixteenth inning. It took Weston 25 innings to run out.

J. L. Chapman of Chicago scored an easy win over Ed Ralph of Trenton, N. J., 100 to 65.

MINNEAPOLIS WIRE TAPPING CASE

Minneapolis, Mar. 6—Charles (Red) Carlson, charged with having swindled John Koehn of Dorchester, Wis., out of $3,100 in a fake horse-race and wiretapping game will be brought to trial today. He has been at liberty on $25,000 bail. The county attorney and sheriff have been making a hunt for the complaining witness. It appears that Koehn left his home about the first of the year, without telling his relatives where he was going. Koehn's story was that, on May 21, 1914, he was swindled out of his roll in Minneapolis, and he accused Carlson of doing the job.

CROP DAMAGE REPORTS GIVE UPWARE SWING TO WHEAT

Chicago, March 6.—Crop damage reports gave an upward swing today to the wheat market. In consequence despite setbacks during the first half of the day prices closed strong. @2⅜ to 2½@2⅝ net higher, with May at 1.15⅝ and July at 1.12⅝@1.12⅝.

Corn gained 1⅝@1¾ to 1⅜@1⅞, oats ⅜@⅝ to ¼@⅜, and provisions 10c to 82½c.

Wheat made a swift ascent when once bullish sentiment got a start. Perhaps the greatest impetus came from authoritative advices that much winter wheat acreage in southern Oklahoma and northern Texas had been wholly abandoned and been reseeded to oats.

Absence of export buying had a good deal to do with the early weakness in the wheat market. Besides a liberal increase was expected in the United States visible supply total, but the increase turned out to be smaller than had been looked for.

Destruction of 573,000 bushels of corn in a fire at Peoria counted materially toward a tightening of the corn market here. Adverse weather for the domestic crop movement tended also to hamper the bears. Oats were dominated by the upturns in other grain. All offerings were readily absorbed.

Hog prices at the highest point in sixteen months brought about a sharp advance in provisions, especially pork. The advance was in the face of the fact that exports of provisions last week were much smaller than for the corresponding time a year ago.

STOCK MARKET IS RATHER DULL, THO CONSISTENTLY STRONG

During the Early Part of Session Attention Continued to Focus on Washington.

New York, March 6.—Aside from obvious manipulation in an unusual variety of special stocks, today's market was rather dull, tho consistently strong. During the early part of the session attention continued to focus on Washington, but advices from that center were too conflicting for the most part to justify resumption of active trading.

The professional side of the market was further evidenced by the steady lack of inquiry for erstwhile favorites, particularly rails. This condition was largely modified in the final hour, however, United States Steel and some high class investment shares leading the movement to its best and broadest tone.

Steel scored a maximum gain of 1⅝ and Bethlehem Steel on very light offerings rose 11.

Sugar shares, next oil, and finally munitions and motors, were taken up by pools and cliques, some of these mixed issues scoring gains of according proportions.

Mexican Petroleum added 5¼ points to last Saturday's advance and Texas company rose 4. Crucible Steel featured the better known war stocks, with a rise of 8⅝.

Half a score of miscellaneous stocks, including Mercantile Marines, United Fruit, Equipments and Fertilizers were higher by 2 to almost 5 points.

Strength approaching buoyancy marked the course of specialties at the close. Total sales 483,000 shares.

Further noteworthy January returns were submitted by leading railway systems, Burlington reporting a net gain of $750,000, "Soo" $276,000 and Great Northern $272,000.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home —128 Teaspoonsful for 50 Cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as M. E. Gilbert is selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. This druggist says, "Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe CoCugh, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonsful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonsful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador or "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfied. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, St. Paul, Minn.—Adv.

FEEDING HOGS FOR PROFIT

CHAPTER VI

Economical Dry Lot Rations

The necessity of feeding protein supplements is much more imperative in dry lot than upon green pastures. The winter months, from December to April, are practically dry lot feeding months, the ground is frozen and there is no pasture at this time excepting possibly a little grazing on dry blue grass. All of the protein furnishing pastures are practically gone excepting possibly some of the winter ryes or wheats, and the hogman must largely depend upon the concentrated grains, root crops and protein roughages for hog feeding. For fattening, of course, much emphasis is to be placed upon the addition to corn and similar grains of protein and mineral supplements such as the meat products, skim-milk, oil meal, soy beans, meal middlings, and their various combinations.

The shoats that have been practically grown during the summer time upon forage stand dry lot fattening remarkably well. The young fall pigs, however, which are just weaned, should be fed a ration much richer in protein and mineral elements than are these larger grown shoats. These young pigs respond gallantly when such foods as bran, sifted oats (hulls out), roots, alfalfa hay, especially the leafy portions, are fed in conjunction with rich protein feeds such as the meat meal or flax (oil meal) or wheat midding products. One has to supply what in the summer time is found in pasture somehow in order to have young pigs grow well and be thrifty. Fall pigs do well when self fed on corn, tankage and salt. Try it and be surprised with the results. Many of your countrymen have been astonished, and agreeably so. Allowing them to follow cattle is a most excellent means of economical production, combining as it does exercise encouragement with a succulent feed in the cattle droppings.

To insure that the hogs be healthy one must see that they are free from worms. The following worm remedies for hogs have been successfully used by the Animal Husbandry Section of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Sttion, Ames, Iowa:

Formula for Hogs Infected With Worms.

Santonin, 2 1-2 grains.
Areca Nut, 1 dram.
Calomel, 1-2 grain.
Sodium Bicarbonate, 1-2 dram.

The above amounts constitute a dose for 50 lb. pig. To a 100 lb. hog, two times as much; the 200 pounder 3 1-2 times and to the 300 pounder, 5 times as much. Feed may be withheld for at least 24 hours before giving the above mixture, altho this is not so necessary as some may imagine. Repeat dose in eight or ten days, if you wish to make sure most of the worms are expelled.

The 6 grains Santonin and 4 grains Calomel per hundred pounds live weight formula for pregnant sows given in Chapter III is good, but this addition of Areca Nut and Sodium Bicarbonate is advantageous in some cases in that the former causes the more thoro expulsion of the worms by increasing the intestinal movements (peristalsis), the latter by "sweetening" up the calomel to prevent salivation.

Pumkins in season are a most excellent vermifuge, and are largely made use of by our most practical and successful hogmen. A few pumkins lend much to a prosperous wormfree swine husbandry.

Formula to be Used as a Preventive

This is to be kept before the pigs at all times, but must be kept under cover to prevent waste:

Glauber's Salts, or Sodium Sulphate ..... 3 parts.
Salsoda or Sodium Carbonate ..... 3 parts.
Copperas, or Iron Sulphate .. 3 parts.
Common Salt, or Sodium Chloride ..... 3 parts.
Sulphur—Flowers of ..... 1 part.

The above mixture when made up in large quantities should not cost more than 2 or 3 cents per pound.

Use the common salt as a filler, increasing or decreasing, depending on the amounts the hogs are eating.

It is well to omit the copperas when allowing mixture to pregnant sows.

These ingredients may be supplied in separte compartments to very good advantage thus giving the pig a chance to balance his mineral ration somewhat.

Various condiments such as charcoal, wood ashes, bone meal, air-slaked lime, soft coal, cinders, salt and other beneficial materials have been considerably recommended, the same being placed where the hogs can have free access. These condiments are undoubtedly beneficial; as the hogs eat but little of them, comparatively speaking, it may be well for the farmer to supply them. If wood ashes are available they are very benefical as bone formers and muscle stimulants because in a thousand pounds of the unleached ashes we find 500 pounds of calcium carbonate (pure limestone or chalk), 50 pounds of potassium and 5 pounds of phosphorous in addition to other materials. The phosphoous and calcium are both instrumetal in bone forming, while the potassium performs a very useful function in the muscles and various organs of the body. If one does not care to go to the trouble of buying these condiments an abundance of wood ashes in conjunction with some corn fob charcoal, and possibly bone meal, will probably prove amply sufficient for most ordinary purposes. On corn alone, pigs eat more of such substance than when fed meat meal in addition; ther's a reason for this.

Rapid and economical gains are emphasized in the dry lot fattening of hogs. The advantages of rapid gains are:

1. Less labor and care in putting on a hundred pounds gain.
2. Less risk from cholera and other diseases due to shorter period of feeding.
3. Money is turned over more quickly, meaning ultimately greater profits.
4. Rapid gains are nearly always the cheapest gains.
5. It makes everyone happy to see the hogs do well.

To insure rapid and economical gains in the winter the feeder should induce his hogs to drink considerable water. Ordinarily the hog drinks too little water in cold weather if some method is not devised to induce him to drink copiously. Warming the water and mixing with mill feed and tankage is an excellent way to get a maximum of water into the pig's stomach. The skim-milk method can hardly be excelled because skim-milk contains 90 per cent water. Inasmuch as water is cheap and furthermore because an optimum consumption of it well cause the hogs to gain more rapidly and at less outlay of feed, it is quite essential that natural water drinking be encouraged. This word of caution is in season: Do not mix the entire ration with water; better feed the larger portion of it in the natural dry way. Imagine yourself eating nothing but soup; tiresome, irksome business, not true? Why not try one of these kerosene lamp heating waterers, that always keep the chill off the water, and never any ice. The men who have them swear by them. They are right in principle and surely the hogs appreciate them; that's a good sign of efficiency.

Warm beds are also essential. Do not spare the bedding. The hog suffers as much from the cold of winter as he does from the heat of summer, and he should be protected from both. The thin-skinned, lean or store hog, especially, in the winter time if allowed to shiver around undoubtedly burns up feed that would otherwise would be converted into fat. The hog differs in this respect from the sheep, which has a warm coat of wool, or the hose with its shaggy covering of hair in that its bristles are not a very good heat conserving covering. The solution of the problem is to bed well in comfortable houses.

In finishing hogs in dry lot on corn alone their appetite wanes somewhat even in 30 to 60 days of final feeding. Heavy, well-grown shoats weighing 250 pounds at the beginning of the fattening period do comparatively well on corn alone for a short time, but even with such hogs as these the addtion of a little skim-milk, tankage, oil meal or middlings will not only increase but cheapen the gains. It is quite fundamental that the larger the reserve of bony frame and active muscle, built upon ideal rations, the hogs have at the beginning of the fattening period the longer they can do well on corn alone. This is in marked contrast to the young growing pig which must grow and fatten at the same time; with him long continued corn alone in dry lot is ofttimes fatal.

That the feeding of supplements to corn and other grains in dry lot is profitble both physiologically and economically is quite clearly shown in results of the Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Alabama, Virginia and other Experiment Stations; progressive practical farmers have also learned the truth of this by costly experience.

The efficiency of supplemented rations as compared to corn alone is clearly shown in some Iowa experimental trials which are typical of those secured at other stations. The Iowa feeding figures are presented showing the efficiency of different amounts of supplements when fed to hogs by ordinary hand-feeding methods. (See chapter on The Self-Feeding Scheme.)

The young weanling pig is a sorry sight when fed in dry lot unless he receives a well compounded ration. If possible, skim-milk should be provided as part of his ration. The addition of tankage to corn helps considerable; middlings, too, is a great feed in this respect and should be made use of when such young pigs are being fed. A combination, however, of corn, middlings, skim-milk and tankage is somewhat better than skim-milk and corn, or middlings and corn; in other words, an intelligent combination of all four feeds will procure not only more rapid and economical gains, but grow the pig better.

That too much supplement can be fed to fairly well-grown shoats of 133 pounds is quite clearly shown (Table XII). That 6 to 8 per cent of 60 per cent protein meat product added to corn is more efficient than the larger amount of 10 per cent is quite clearly brought out, it requiring 518 pounds of feed to put on a hundred pounds of gain where the larger proportion was used as compared to 476 and 473, respectively, with the smaller amounts. Furthermore, the daily gain was decreased somewhat where too much of the high protein mineral food was allowed. It is quite important that too much of this protein stuff be not fed because an excess of it is a burden to the animal; one should rather underdo than overdo the protein feeding.

It is quite peculiar to note that the hog's appetite in this respect is quite a reliable indication of his physiological needs. The hogs in this experiment mentioned, getting 10 per cent of this high-protein product added to the corn showed a marked dislike for the excessive 2 or 3 per cent. They ate about 8 per cent nicely and with profit, but the other 2 per cent was largely wasted. In truth, it was more than wasted, because 32 pounds more corn was needed to produce a 100 pounds of gain than where 8 per cent was fed, this in addition to 13 pounds of precious meat meal product; surely it pays to study the hog when he eats, ofttimes he can give us pointers that pay. If their appetites had been taken as a guide about 8 per cent would have been the amount to feed. The chances are many times to one, that if a competitive group had been self-fed on the meat meal product that they would have made more rapid and economical gains than any of the others; this statement is based on our recent Self-Feeding Experience at the Iowa Experiment Station.

One can overdo on skim-milk protein as well as on meat protein feeding; in fact, an excess protein of any sort is not best any more than is a deficiency as in "corn alone." Excess protein is burdensome to the animal because it overloads the excretory organs, such as the kidneys, which expel the urea, uric acid and other waste products. Had these shoats balanced their own rations the chances are that they would not have overloaded on protein to their own detriment. In addition, an over-supply of protein leaves too little room for carbohydrates and fat, so essential in making of adipose tissue.

Efficiency built the Panama Canal, after inefficiency failed. The efficiency of the Panama Canal doubled the effectiveness of the U. S. Navy without adding a ship to it. It took over 8,000 miles out of the trip from New York to San Francisco and changed the highway between London and Australia from Suez to Panama.

Efficiency insures against lost motion—it produces the utmost service out of equipment and yields the finest product, at the least cost.

Certain-teed

Roofing

is an efficiency product

Every advantage that men, money and machinery can offer is used to increase the production, maintain the quality and lower the cost. Each of the General's enormous mills is advantageously located to serve the ends of efficient manufacture and quick distribution. Each is equipped with the most up-to-date machinery. Raw materials are purchased in enormous quantities and far ahead of the needs of manufacturing, thus guarding against increased cost due to idle machinery. This also insures favorable buying, and the pick of the market.

Expert chemists at each mill are employed to select and blend the asphalts, and every roll of CERTAIN-TEED is made under their watchful care.

CERTAIN-TEED resists the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing, because the felt is thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalts, prepared under the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalts, which keeps the inner saturation soft. This makes a roofing more pliable, and more impervious to the elements than the harder, drier kind.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

GREATEST BLOOD REMEDY

Gives Results When Others Fail Nature's Remedy For the Blood.

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made "S. S. S. for the Blood" a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clean skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. If yours is a peculiar case write Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

PEORIA WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. W. L. McClellan, of Peoria, suffered torture from indigestion, gas, belching and other symptoms of stomach trouble. She spent large sums of money for doctors' advice and medicine. Still her condition did not improve. She found relief, wonderful surprising relief in a drug store window. This is her story, as she tells it:

"I suffered so from distention and colickly pains that at times I was completely incapacitated for my household work. I saw a window display of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and decided to purchase a bottle, which did. I have taken only one bottle and the results have been really wonderful. I have not had a pain in my stomach since, and let me say that for the first time in many, many months, two days following I have had a natural movement of the bowels. I feel I cannot say enough for the remarkable virtues of your remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

DOES YOUR LIVER HAVE TO BE JOLTED BEFORE IT WILL ACT?

If so, You are in Danger—Quit Taking Purgatives

The habit of constipation is what ages young people and often makes people show their age so plainly in face, in loss of the faculty for quick, clear thinking and in acquiring a strained or hard expression, and an irritable and pessimistic outlook on life and people.

More often than is realized it is the main thing responsible for such ills as hemorrhoids, gall stones and the more serious disorders of liver, stomach and kidneys.

Lack of proper exercise is partly responsible for this condition, but one or the other of two things must bear much of the responsibility. Neglect is one of them—the sufferer is either afraid to "dose up," as they say, with constipation cures, or else they don't pay enough attention to the matter to look for relief. If neglect is not the cause, then the taking of too much medicine is. They have taken so much calomel or other habit-forming or mineral purgatives that they've got their livers and bowels into the habit of waiting to be jolted before they will act. And, as it takes a harder jolt each time to produce results, they've got to increase the dose constantly to get the effect.

The only possible way to persuade these organs to resume the work nature intended they should perform naturally every day of your life is to make them healthy themselves; in other words, to cure them of the drug habit—this continual taking of pills or potions for their poor old liver—Salko Liver Tonic is recommended for such conditions.

As you know, we are members of the organization of leading American druggists working with a prominent compounder of ready-put-up prescriptions, which is working so hard to induce the people of the United States to live according to the sensible rules of the Health-Safety-First Movement. Our membership in this organization enables us to supply a simple, yet effective, ready-put-up prescription for relieving constipation and assisting nature to restore these organs to healthy, natural activity—it is called Salko Liver Tonic. We can recommend it to both young and old as an effective, non-habit-forming, vegetable laxative. It contains no minerals—nothing to salivate, nothing to cause the cathartic habit—yet it is as sure and active a laxative as calomel was the first dose you took. Get a bottle of Salko Liver Tonic from us today and keep it on hand.

Have you gotten your Salko Safety First Manual of Health and Diet? It is free.

Members of the league went on record in favor of the Keating-Owen bill against child labor and copies of the resolution will be sent to Senators L. Y. Sherman and J. Hamilton Lewis.

Miss Louise Reid of the Woman's college read a poem by Mrs. A. G. Burr, "A Dream." Babies brought to the meeting were cared for by girls from the high school and from the social service department of the Woman's college.

Dr. Reid read a paper on "The Child Before and After Birth," basing his remarks on experience obtained thru many years of the practice of obstetrics, urging a bounty for motherhood to be paid by the state and calling attention to the needless cruelty practiced by society against the mother of the illegitimate child.

Miss Johnson presented a paper in which she emphasized essential points in the hygiene of childhood. She said in part:

Some Points on Hygiene.

"Absolute cleanliness must prevail in preparing the babies' food; by this we do not only mean the mother's hands, the bottles, nipples, etc., but everything that comes in contact or surrounds the baby, as in the summer the windows and doors should be screened to keep out the deadly fly, baby's worst enemy. It not only brings filth and dirt, it also spreads diseases that result in death, as typhoid and tuberculosis. So the slogan, 'Swat the fly,' should be adopted by everybody. A better way is to clean up the town, anything that is dirty in which flies can breed. Keep your garbage cans covered, a rule that ought to be enforced, and if violated a heavy fine should be imposed upon the violater, because it may be the cause of some baby's death.

"Some of the most essential things in the clothing of infants are: The limbs should be well protected, but not confined as used to be the custom; the abdomen should be supported by a broad flannel band, which should be snug but not too tight. It is very important that the clothing should fit the body. If it is too tight it intereferes with the free movements of the chest in breathing, and by pressing upon the stomach causes the infant to vomit soon after swallowing its food. If the clothing is too loose it is soon thrown into deep folds or bunches and causes great discomfort. No pins should be used except where absolutely necessary; all bands about the body should be basted and the petticoats supported by shoulder straps. In putting on the child's cloething it should be drawn over the child's feet, not slipped over the head.

"Last but not least comes the question as to the value of fresh air, one of the hardest things to teach most people. Airing in the room may be begun—a strong healthy child when it is three or four weeks old, at first only for fifteen or twenty minutes at the time. This period may gradually lengthened by ten or fifteen minutes each day, so in time the window can be kept open all the time and allow free circulation of fresh air. This airing may be continued in almost all kinds of weather andy instead of rendering the child more liable to take cold it is the best means of preventing it. Fresh air increases the appetite, digestion is better, cheeks become read and all signs of health are seen.

"In some of the larger cities what is known as infant welfare societies have been organized. Their aim is to teach the mothers how to take care of their babies or how to keep well babies well. In the congested districts they hold conferences two or three times a week, when a doctor and a nurse are present. The mothers bring in their babies, then they are weighed and examined by the doctor, who gives instructions and advice to the mother.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS MADE AT CITY COUNCIL SESSION

All Former Records Surpased in Water Department—Council Will Obtain Bids For Auto Fire Apparatus.

The Monday session of the city council had nothing more sensational than the reports of officers. The most interesting report was that from the water department, signed by W. H. Cobb, superintendent, and Joshua Vasconcellos as commissioner, showing total collections of $3,762.09. This is divided as follows: water rent $3,637.13, meters $30, taps, $3, junk $83.36, repairs $8.50. This report is the best ever made in the department, the total being about $300 above the highest previous record ever shown. Such returns have a very important place in the city's revenues. Other reports were as follows:

John Pires sexton of Jacksonville cemetery, reported 13 graves made and Harry Summes, sevton for Diamond Grove, reported 16 graves made.

The report of J. M. Coons showed fines collected $74.30, city costs $20.60,total, $106.30.

R. L. Pyatt city clerk, reported receipts thru his office $836; from Diamond Grove $235.50, from Jacksonville cemetery, $95.50.

George P. Davis, chief of police, reported 20 as the total number of arrests in February. The cases were as follows: jumping board bill 1, disorderly conduct 7; burglary 1, vagrancy 2, drunkenness 4; distrurbing the peace 2, violating local option law, 1. The total of fines was $106.30.

Charles B. Graff, city treasurer, reported a balance on hand at the end of the month of $10, 480,46.

Miss Emma Weller, city matron, reported the case of a dependent girl who had been placed in the state home; that she had visited a girl who had run away from home; had consulted with the parents of several delinquent children; had started proceedings which resulted in a boy being sent to the St. Charles home, and had investigated various other cases.

One communication was read asking the members of the council to attend a meeting of the Civic League this afternoon and another asking them to attend a meeting to be held tonight at the 8th grade building in connection with the observance of Baby Week.

All properly approved bills on motion of Mr. Widmayer were ordered paid when funds are available. The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for auto driven fire apparatus in accordance with specifications in the office of Commissioner Martin. The ordinance for South Main street pavement was given second reading and adopted.

BATTLED FOR THEIR BRIDES.

The Most Thrilling Wedding Day In the World's History.

Do you know what was the most thrilling wedding day in the history of the world? There have been many romantic marriages and many nuptial services that had to be deferred because of the opposition of parent or rival, but all of them pale into dingy gray when compared with the colorful spectacle of the abduction and recapture of the Venetian brides in the early winter of 923, when Candino II., the noble doge, was lending his presence to the biggest wedding party in the history of the Church of San Pietro. It had long been the custom for all the noble brides to be married on St. Mary's day. It was, moreover, the custom for the brides to bring with them all their jewels and their dowries, in gold coin, inclosed in handsomely carved chests.

The latter fact was well known in Trieste, that ancient Roman colony which was the harbor for bands of pirates who were most clever navigators On this richest of all St. Mary's wedding days the ceremony for more than a score of brides had already begun when the pirates from Trieste burst into the church, captured the brides and their dowries and carried them to the waiting boats. Thanks to the Trunkmakers' union, there were several boats waiting, and in these the bereft bridegrooms and the sturdy trunkmakers gave pursuit. There was a battle royal, one of the most thrilling sea fights on record, dowries and brides were recovered, and before midnight all had been safely married.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

GET RICH QUICK SCHEMES.

For Big Investors They May Work, but Not For Small Ones.

"Those who labor hard for their money and who have a still more arduous struggle in saving small sums," says a banker in the American Magazine, "naturally fall easy victims in many instances to the desire for sudden riches. But the fatal error lies in supposing that the person of small means can afford to take the chance. If he or she loses they lose all. The large capitalist and the professional money lender have the law of averages working with them. They can afford to sink money into twenty ventures if they make a thousand per cent on one. They are protected by the law of chance, the average safety of their investments depending upon no single risk.

"Risk is a necessary part of business, but should be borne by the strong, never by the weak. The promoter who talks about the small investor being given the same opportunities as the very rich is indulging in 'bunk.' He always forgets to say that a safe 5 per cent bond or a 6 per cent mortgage, 'cold, impersonal depositories for funds,' will at the end of five years have paid their owners 30 per cent to 35 per cent (allowing for compound interest) and that the vast majority of new ventures with big promises will have paid nothing.

"Only the man who can afford to take risks has any business to look for an investment that will make him rich quickly."

Disraeli and the Editor.

Disraeli would dearly have liked to suspend the London Globe years ago when that paper, then a Whig organ, fell foul of him over his "Vindication of the English Constitution." Few editors have ever been so roughly abused as in Disraeli's letter to the Times: "It is not my passion for notoriety that has induced me to tweak the editor of the Globe by the nose and to inflict sundry kicks upon the baser part of his base body, to make him eat dirt and his own words, fouler than any filth, but because I wished to show to the world what a miserable poltroon, what a craven dullard, what a literary scarecrow, what a mere thing, stuffed with straw and rubbish, is the soidisant director of public opinion and official organ of Whig politics."—London Opinion.

Kick of the Gun.

When a young American joins the national guard or, following that instinct which not even long city life can entirely kill, takes a gun and starts out as a hunter, one of the earliest surprises he gets is that nasty hard kick his firearm gives him.

But the kick of the big guns in war is tremendous. Some of the guns jump into the air. In others mechanism takes up the rebound and the gun slides back into place.

It is a curious fact that each of these great guns takes its kick in a way all its own.—New York World.

Strychnine.

The number of plants used for medicinal purposes in the Philippines is very large. A few are recognized as sources of standard medicines, but the number having commercial value is decidedly small. From one, the St. Ignatius bean (Strychnos ignatii), the strychnine of commerce is extracted.

JOHN DE CASTRO FOUND DEAD SUNDAY MORNING

Deceased Had Been in Ill Health for Long Time—Coroner's Inquest Held.

John DeCastro, aged 51 years, was found dead Sunday morning at 7 o'clock in the water closet at his rooming place, 212 1-2 North Main street. DeCastro had been in poor health for several months and his death was not a matter of great surprise. DeCastro was for many years a resident of the city and was a pitcher by occupation. The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of J. G. Reynolds and the coroner notified. A jury was empanelled to inquire into the cause of death, composed of the following: John N. Joaquin, foreman; J. DeCastro, Otto Lindeman, C. S. Duffner, Roy Eyre and James Holt, clerk.

The jury heard the testimony of Dr. W. H. Weirich who had treated the deceased and Buker Daniels and Terry Caldwell who were rooming in the same building. The testimony of Caldwell told of the finding of DeCastro's body in the water closet. Daniels testified that DeCastro complained of feeling badly the night before.

Dr. Weirich testified that he was first called to see Jack DeCastro about two months ago. He said further that DeCastro was suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis and arterio sclerosis. After hearing the testimony of the witnesses the jury returned a verdict that "DeCastro came to his death as the result of exhaustion caused by pulmonary tuberculosis and arterio sclerosis."

Two brothers survive. Paul DeCastro of St. Louis and James DeCastro of DeSoto, Mo. His parents preceded him in death several years ago.

Funeral services will be held from Reynolds' undertaking parlors this afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Jacksonville cemetery.

W. H. ANDERSON WRITES FROM HOT SPRINGS

Automobiles Have Not Put Horses Out of Business at Southern Resort —Fine Golf Course There.

Wm. H. Anderson who recently went to Hot Springs for his health writes his friends here:

I am feeling fine again; the soreness has nearly left my shoulder and arm and I hope in a few days more I shall be entirely well. I shall have to stay about four weeks in all. You may talk about the automobile putting the horse out of business but it certainly has not done it down here. While there are a good many autos there never were so many good horses here as now; carriage horses, buggy horses and saddle horses and lots of mules. We can hire pleasure autos very cheap but the people who are here prefer the horses.

There are a good many saddlers here and the visitors take great pleasure in horseback riding, the ladies especially. The autos are used mostly for quick service and long drives about the mountains for sight seeing.

They have quite a golf course here and it is hardly like the one at Nichols park. They call it a nineteen hole course and if a certain Jacksonville man were here he could drive his head off and no one would bother him. It has snowed or rained nearly every day since I came. Isaac Watson of Woodson is here with me and is feeling fine again.

SWORDS OF JAPAN.

Religious Rites In Their Making and a Final Blessing.

That the Japanese are past masters in the art of sword making is proved by the splendid weapons, equal to those of Toledo and Damascus, which they turn out. The actual methods of sword making in Japan are jealously guarded, an extraordinary feature of the industry being the religous ceremony which accompanies every process of their manufacture. The walls of every sword making shop in Japan will be found to be covered with allegorical representations of the sword makers and the chief goddess of the Shintos.

Evil spirits are kept away by charms consisting of bits of paper and wisps of straw, while, should any woman enter the shop, disaster would certainly come to the swords that are being made and to their wielders. Consequently women are absolutely debarred from entering business as sword makers, while not only is prayer offered up before the work begins, but various religious rites peculiar to the Japanese are performed in order that the swords, when finally completed, may be said to have been well and truly made.

Even the final processes of polishing and sharpening are characterized by certain religious ceremonies, and finally the weapons are offered, one by one, to the sword god to be blessed. This ceremony consists in placing the swords in front of the goddess of the Shintos on the wall, with an offering of sake, rice and sweetmeats, after which prayer scrolls are read and blessing upon the work is invoked.—Pearson's Weekly.

KEEP IN HARNESS.

Why It Is Dangerous to Retire From Active Work.

In Farm and Fireside Dr. David E Spahr gives some advice to workers who are planning to retire from their callings and enjoy a peaceful old age.

"The abrupt change from an active member of the producing class to an idle member of the consuming class," he says, "is too much for a man who is facing the setting sun. And just here is the excuse and reason for this article. I want to sound a note of warning to those contemplating such a move—'Safety first.'

"For a man in declining life whose arteries are already beginning to harden from indulging in rich and stimulating food the change should be made gradually, allowing his system to accustom itself gradually to the changed conditions. A lessened amount of rich and stimulating food should be indulged in. Regular hours must be maintained, regular exercises that will bring into play and actively all the different muscles of the body in order to insure the elimination of the waste products of the body.

"A sedentary life, inactive and purposeless, with nothing to live for, no object in view but to live and eat and wait and waste away, with a lessened income and greater expense, with more and greater demand upon the purse strings—how great the temptation to become restless, nervous and irritable."

Tires Must Be Matched.

The Scientific American calls attention to a common cause of rear axle troubles, the same being the variation in diameter of different makes of tires Though these are theoretically 34 by 4 inches, in practice they vary as much as half an inch and sometimes even more. Some of the results of the use of odd tires are oil leaking from the rear axle case and the brake drum of the wheel with the smaller tire, difficulties in steering and tires wearing unevenly. The moral, of course, is that tires of the same type and make should be used on wheels of the same axle.

Hugo and His Disciple.

A young man, an admirer of the great poet, attended one of Victor Hugo's receptions, became engaged in argument and lost his temper. Hugo solemnly rebuked him, and he subsided. Presently the guests retired. One of them, however, had forgotten his umbrella and returned to get it. Looking through an open door from the vestibule, he perceived the young man on his knees before the poet, sobbing out his apologies for his disrespect, while Victor Hugo, with almost regal dignity, extended his hand to him and bade him rise.

R. L. Stevenson and Women.

It may perhaps be recalled that it was to the late Dr. Trudeau that Stevenson once admitted that he felt he had been rash when he promised a lady over the dinner table that he would put a real woman into his next book. "I've often wondered, Stevenson," said the doctor, "but never thought to ask, why do you never put a real woman in a story?" "Good heavens, Trudeau," was the reply, "when I have tried I find she talks like a grenadier!"—Westminster Gazette.

Only a Poser.

"He isn't a true Bohemian," said the poet. "He's a poseur."

"How do you know?" asked the artist.

"Huh!" snorted the poet, with fine scorn. "I don't believe he owes a cent in the world!"—Dallas News.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

SOME NEW FRIENDS

"We are in luck, for we have landed right by one of the cities built by the Parosal Ants", said Tinker Teedle Tee as he folded up the magic rug on which he and Billy Be By Bo Bum had made the journey to Texas.

Billy looked in the direction Tinker pointed and saw a hill towering above him. Compared with the size of an ant it was nearly a thousand feet high and mayoe it didn't make Billy puff and pant when he started to climb the steep side. When they reached the crest, they found the top of the hill was perfectly flat and about half a mile long by a quarter of a mile broad, at least it seemed that large to Billy.

"Where is the gate of the city?" asked Billy when he recovered his breath. "I have scanned the ground in every direction but I cannot see an opening leading down inside the hill."

"There are more than a score of entrances to this city and you are now standing within a few feet of one of the gates," replied the merry little elf.

"Then I must be getting blind for all I can see is a few piles of twigs and leaves."

"And how do you suppose those twigs and leaves came to be here?" asked Tinker, his eyes twinkling.

"I guess they dropped from the branches of this tree that grows overhead."

"You will have to guess again," Tinker replied. "Those heaps of trash are the doors of the city. They were piled up by the ants to hide the entrances to their home, and they are so cleverly arranged that if an enemy of the Little People happened to be passing this way he would think they had dropped here by accident, just as you did, and would never suspect that they hid the entrance to the nest."

"But where are the ants. This must be a deserted city for I have not seen a single ant since we arrived."

"They are in the house sleeping," Tinker replied. "They stay within doors all day and only come out at night. But as it is nearly sundown now, I think we will see them soon. So we will sit down and wait.

For nearly half an hour they sat on a pebble, waiting for the jolly red sun to go to bed behind the western hills, and several times Billy caught himself nodding, for he had encountered so many wonderful adventures since he first met the elf that he was now getting tired.

"Hi ho hum, but I wish they would hurry," yawned Billy at last. "I am getting tired of sitting here doing nothing."

"We won't have much longer to wait," replied Tinker. "In fact I think they are getting ready to open the gates of the city now," and he pointed to the nearest pile of rubbish which concealed one of the entrances.

Sure enough, the twigs and leaves were moving, and the next minute several ants crawled out of the hole so cleverly hid by the rude door. Without wasting any time the busy little workers seized the twigs and leaves in their jaws and dragged them to one side. They were soon joined by more workers who pitched in and helped with such a good will that in a few minutes the gate was wide open. Then the ants came pouring out in a steady stream until the top of the hill was alive with the busy throng.

Billy watched them in silence, but his face was such a picture of bewilderment and disappointment that Tinker burst out laughing.

"What is the matter Billy Boy?" he demanded.

"Why I thought you said these ants carried parasols," replied Billy Be By Bo Bum.

"And so they do."

"Where are they then. They haven't got them now."

"I know, but they are just going after them," replied the elf. "If you watch you will see each ant return in a few minutes with as fine a parasol as any one could wish to see."

Still the ants came pouring from the gate in ever increasing numbers, and as fast as they reached the top of the hill they formed in an orderly column and marched off toward the base of a large oak that grew some distance away. A squad of soldier ants, much larger than the others, marched at the head of the column, for the Little People have many enemies and they didn't want to be caught off their guard.

"Where are they going?" asked Billy.

"To get their parasols," the elf replied. "If you don't believe me, come along and see for yourself."

So Billy and Tinker joined the army of foragers which marched straight to the big oak and started to climb the trunk. Up and up they went until they were lost to view among the leaves and branches. Billy and Tinker stationed themselves at the foot to watch the procession which looked for all the world like a living ribbon fluttering against the trunk.

"Look Billy Boy, look, see what is coming down the tree trunk," cried Tinker after they had watched the procession for some time, and next week I'll tell you what Billy saw.

EXPENDITURE OF FOOT-AND-MOUTH FUNDS

(U. S. Government Report.)

Washington, D. C., March 6—Some misunderstanding having arisen in regard to the expenditure of the funds employed in the suppression of foot-and-mouth disease, the Secretary of Agriculture in order to clear up the subject has expiained, in a letter published in the Congressional Record, the sources from which the necessary money was obtained and the methods adopted by the Department in accounting for its expenditure. In this letter the Secretary said in part:

"The outbreak of the foot-and-mouth disease occured in October, 1914. At that time the only funds available for use in combating the disease were those carried in the agricultural appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, under the heading, 'General Expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry.' The several items under this appropriation aggregated $1,597,996, of which amount $446,047.37 had been expended in furtherance of the regular lines of work authorized by that appropriation. It will thus be seen that there was available a balance of $1,131,948.63 for expenditure in carrying on the routine work covered by such appropriation and in carrying on the work involved in the eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease. When this outbreak occurred, Congress was not in session and it, therefore, became necessary for the department to darw largely upon such balance successfully to combat the foot-and-mouth disease. Payment of expences of the work involved in the foot-and-mouth disease project from the appropriation referred to necessarily embarrassed the other lines of activities, the expenses of which were exclusively chargeable there to. In order to carry on the several lines of work outlined in said appropriation, it was necessary to reimburse that appropriation practically to the extent of the amount paid therefrom in furtherance of the foot-and-mouth disease project. When Congress convened, the situation confronting the department was fully explained to the Committee on Appropriations. As a result of presenting the matter to that committee, an item was embodied in the deficiency bill of January 25, 1915, reading as follows:

"'For the arrest and eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease, the payment of claims arising out of past and future purchases and destruction of animals affected by or exposed to the foot-and-mouth disease, and for a deficiency in the objects specified under the head "General expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry," in the agricultural appropriation act for the fiscal year 1915, $2,500,000, to be expended by the Secretary of Agriculture.'

"The objects of this bill were twofold—(1) to defray the expenses incident to the suppression of the foot-and-mouth disease and (2) to reimburse the appropriation 'General expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry,' for the deficiency in the objects specified thereunder occasioned by the outbreak of that disease. In conformity with this authorization, the various subappropriations under 'General expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry,' which had been heavily drawn upon for defraying the expenses of the work connected with the eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease, were reinbursed from the deficiency item of $2,500,000, as such action became necessary, by charging items of expense subsequently incurred for dairy, animal husbandry, or other regular work to the emergency appropriation. In all such cases the vouchers for such items bore the title of the emergency appropriation, together with the title of the subappropriation under 'General expenses Bureau of Animal Industry,' to which the expense was chargeable, thus clearly showing that the subappropriation was reinbursed from the emergency appropriation to the extent of the amount covered by such items, and accounts of these reinbursements were taken up and carried on the official records in this way. The items to which you referred on the floor of the House were items of this nature.

"I may add, also, that in no instance was there a reimbursement of the original subappropriations beyound the amount appropriated by Congress in the appropriation act for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1915; indeed, owing to the interruption in the regular work of the Bureau of Animal Industry, it was not necessary to reinburse the regular subappropriations for all of the money which had been withdrawn for use in the foot-and-mouth disease work between the date of the outbreak of the disease and January 25, 1915. The total amount withdrawn during that period from the regular subappropriations was $807,170.63, while the total reimbursement from the emergency appropriation amounted to but $529,135.63.

"It is believed that this explanation clearly shows that the expenditures for travel in connection with the several lines of work covered by the appropriation 'General expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry,' which were charged to and paid from the deficiency appropriation of January 25, 1915, were properly paid under the authority contained in the latter appropriation."

RETURNS FROM SOUTH.

Dr. E. F. Baker is at home again after a several weeks' stay in Florida. Accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Sholl, and daughter of Quincy, he went to Orlando, Fla. After a stay there he started on the homeward journey and spent a week in Washington and a few days in other cities in the east. In Washington Dr. Baker attended several sessions of congress and of the supreme court, and said yesterday that he was really surprised at the democracy of the supreme court, as it is possible for the casual visitor to enter the court room and witness the proceedings. Dr. Baker returns feeling greatly benefited by the trip.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Things That Are Mere Comforts Now Used to Be Luxuries.

No economist has put enough emphasis on the fact that if the cost of living is higher now it is to a large extent because the average man is demanding more comforts and luxuries, and these must cost more. Before the days of plumbing and bathrooms the workman missed some onerous bills, but he is not ready to throw the plumbing out of the house.

Oil is cheaper for light than electricity, but people pay more for a modern light because they want the better service even at the higher prices. Workmen by the thousands have phonographs, a form of entertainment unknown until a very few years ago.

Even street cars are rather a new thing, and the poorest families spend many dollars every year for this service, which has become indispensable. Magazines are purchased now by many people who ten years ago had never subscribed for such a publication.

Thousands of articles are for sale in every department store, of which a large percentage are purchased at some time or other by the average wage earning family.

Modern living does cost more assuredly, but it also yields more.—Milwaukee Journal.

SPEED OF A STAR.

With a Thought That Points a Moral to Impatient Humanity.

There is a star—a reddish star known as Arcturus—that is traveling at the rate of 150 miles a second, and what is interesting about it is it is coming this way and will come for many years, but it is so far away that it doesn't seem to have any motion at all. It is in exactly the same spot, so far as our vision is concerned, where it was a century ago.

There is another star known as the "runaway" whose speed is twice that of Arcturus—that is, it could sweep across Ohio in a second of time.

We refer to this fact that the gentle reader may understand how insignificant are the little concerns of life that tear his patience into tatters and turn the world into woe. Long after he has gone Arcturus will be traveling 150 miles a second and to all appearances not budging an inch. How modest and patient should this touch of near infinity make us all! And yet, as Tennyson says:

We cannot be kind to each other here for an hour
We whisper and hint, and chuckle and grin at a brother's shame.
However, we brave it out; we men are a little breed.

—Columbus Journal.

Saves the Tires.

He doesn't look like a very important part of a big automobile organization, this stooped, grizzled man, but the president of a great motorcar company says that "Magnet Bill" saves his salary a dozen times over every day he works. Rain or shine, summer or winter "Magnet Bill" may be seen walking slowly about the automobile plant, his eyes on the ground. "Magnet Bill" gets his nickname from the fact that his tools consist solely of one tin bucket and a big steel magnet strapped to the end of a shovel handle. It is his duty to save automobile tires by removing from the roadway every nail and bit of metal that might cause a puncture. Thousands of cars are run over the roadway to the testing place, and it is figured that without the precaution taken by "Magnet Bill" the cost for cut and punctured tires would be $20,000 every year.—Popular Science Monthly and World's Advance.

Origin of a Japanese Dance.

The origin of the Kume-mai, the dance performed at the coronation of the mikado, is traced to Jimmu Tenno, an early hero, who while on his eastern expedition found a certain chieftain called Tsuchigumo most obstinate in his resistance and unsubdmable. Thereupon he ordered O Kume Nushino Mikoto to entice out the chieftain, to whom sake was offered and dances were shown, with the result that finally he was overcome and slain. The descendants of O Kume Nushino Mikoto put this fact into songs and music, from which sprang the dance.—Argonaut.

From the Ship's Well.

An old lady on board a vessel observed two sailors pumping up water to wash the decks, and the captain being near, she accosted him as follows:

"Well, captain, so you've got a well aboard, eh?"

"Yes, ma'am; always carry one," said the polite captain.

"Well, that's clever. It's so much better than the nasty sea water, which I always dislike so."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fate of a Duchess.

We have had excellent meals drawn from the substantial waist of the Venus of Milo for the admonition of the fashionable woman. But what can we say about the Duchess de Mazarin, who (G. Duval tells us in "Shadows of Old Paris") "died in 1775 from tight lacing, although she had posed for a statue of Venus?"

Exactly So.

"The doctor knows I hate camphor."

"So?"

"Yet first he made me sniff it, and now he has prescribed it as a liniment."

COMMUNITY COOPERATION

By R. V. Holland
Reprint from
The Farmers' Review, Chicago

During a visit in the home of one of our prominent farmers last fall I brought up the question of community development. From the discussion that followed I gleaned one of the most impressive lessons in community cooperation that I have ever learned.

Of all the homes I have ever been in this one in question struck me as being the happiest. Every single member of the household, consisting of father, two boys and three girls, is absolutely contented, as they have every reason to be.

And, mark you, community cooperation, as developed in their locality by them and their neighbors, is directly and solely responsible for their happiness.

The story is a simple one as told me by the head of the family in the presence of his children. In substance it was as follows:

"About sixteen years ago my good wife died leaving me and the children to get along as best we could without wife or mother. Under the burdens of poverty and grief you can rather imagine how dark the future looked.

"After reorganizing the household I set about to make my small mortgaged farm produce enough to keep us going. Five years' hard work and rigid economy cleared me of debt and left enought to improve the cabin we called home. The following year I traded the place in on land which forms the nucleus of this farm. My fair education stood me well, and, as I was a hard worker and a close student of agriculture and livestock, I prospered during the next few years, and the future bid fair to have only good in store for us.

"Then about four years ago our happiness seemed to suddenly vanish into thin air without any apparent cause. The two boys definitely concluded to seek a more pleasure-affording atmosphere. They were tired of living in this old run-down community.

"After talking with them and considering the question from their viewpoint I could not blame them. There was absolutely nothing here to interest and amuse young people.

"I was in a quandary: I didn't want to lose my boys and I could not move the entire family without making a great financial sacrifice; I also liked the locality and did not want to leave my old friends if I could help doing so.

"While turning the matter over in my mind this thought developed: 'Why can't we make this community more attractive and interesting—a better community to live in.' I spoke to one or two of my friends and, as they seemed to be interested in the idea, we decided to call a meeting in the town hall to discuss ways and means of accomplishing the end in view.

"It was at this meeting that we disovered what was the matter with the community—it had become impoverished by our sending or taking our money elsewhere. There wasn't a really prosperous merchant in the town.

"The revelation staggered us at first but it didn't take long to decide to act. And, working together, we made this locality a pleasant as well as a more profitable place to live in, and above all taught us this lesson: we can yet just as much for our money in our local stores as elsewhere."

WHY

BECAUSE

They "jumped on a train", investigated conditions for themselves and found that

South Dakota is the Best Place To Own a Farm

There is just enough rainfall. Otherwise how could South Dakota yield such big crops? Fifteen years average precipitation is 22 inches, of which 17 inches comes in the crop-growing months. The long sunshiny days and "Indian Summers" do the rest.

Those days of sunshine and dry crisp air of winter are enemies of sickness, too. That is why we have the lowest death rate in the United States.

Good Climate--Good Health --Good Crops
What More Could You Ask?

And the best of it is you still can come and obtain improved and producing Brown County land for $40 to $90 per acre.

McCormick repairs are always on hand, and in fact any repairs are obtained quicker from us than any where in the state.

BINDER PRICES

They are sure to interest you

By placing your order before the first of April, you are assured of two things—PROMPT DELIVERY and THE OLD PRICE. Every one is aware of the fact that the manufacturers are compelled to advance their prices on account of the advance in the cost of material. So, for their protection, binders, mowers and rakes will be advanced to the dealers April 1st. We are the largest purchasers of farm machinery in this section of the state, and have tried to cover on all lines. But, our spring trade is big and we will protect you as far as possible.

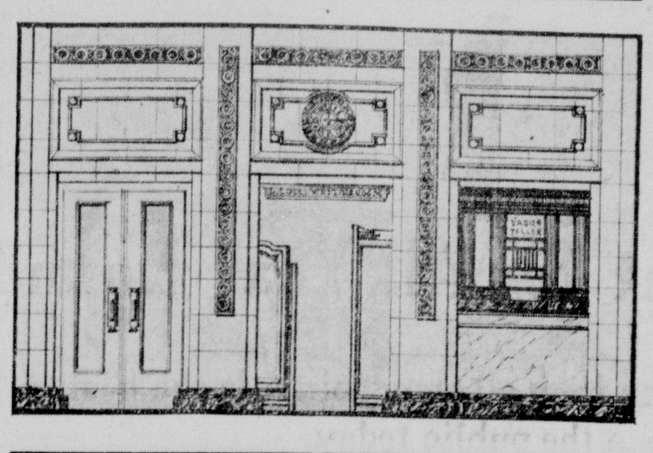

During March, all orders taken on binders, mowers and rakes will be at the old price. Any order taken after April 1st must be at the advance.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

The Constipation Curse

Constipation - clogged bowels cause pain and sickness; 95 per cent of our ills, say the authorities.

Sentanel Laxatives bring quick relief. All vegetable — contain no calomel. Ten doses for a dime at any druggists. Physician's sample free, upon request, if you mention this advertisement. The Sentanel Remedies Co., Inc., 800 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

MANN DECLARED INELIGIBLE FOR STATE BALL TOURNEY

Archie Mann, one of the stars of Springfield's basketball five which won the district tournament in this city, was declared ineligible to play in the state tournament at Decatur. Mann was ruled out at a meeting of the state board of control held in Decatur Saturday. Springfield has one of the strongest fives in the history of the school and its supporters were looking forward to a state title. The barring of Mann will be a severe blow to the team and will weaken it considerably.

The board of control had quite a meeting at Decatur, being in session over fifteen hours. The investigations of the board showed that some of the schools are not particular about the standing of their athletes. In the case of Mann, however, the blame is placed upon him and not upon the school. The board also decided that the winning of the local tournament by Springfield would stand. The following decisions were given out by the board after the meeting Saturday:

1—Arthur high school disqualified and barred from state tournament.

2—Archie Mann, Springfield star, barred from tournament. Team to play.

3—Officials of Robinson-Paris game upheld. Protest not sustained.

4—Shelbyville named legal winner of section play. Entered in state tourney.

5—DuQuoin disqualified and U. High of Carbondale selected to play in state tournament.

6—D. Harrell of DuQuoin team, ineligible for future high school athletics.

Mrs. S. M. Miller and daughter, Willella, have arrived in the city and will open the Miller Hat Shop, 211 W. State St., as soon as the goods arrive, which will be in a day or so.

GIDEONS PLEDGES AT AYERS NATIONAL BANK

A number of persons yesterday called at the Ayers National bank and handed money in for the Gideons. The opportunity still is open for all who desire to follow this commendable example.

The pledge cards indicated that sums would be called for at the residence of the givers but as the Gideons have no one to send around all who made a pledge are earnestly requested to pay the same at the Avers National bank.

GIDEONS FOUND THIS A FRUITFUL FIELD

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS MADE BY JACKSONVILLE PEOPLE.

Bibles Can Be Purchased for All Local Hotels and Hospitals with Hundred to Spare for the Work Elsewhere Opera House Meeting Largely Attended.

The Gideons, who held meetings in Jacksonville Sunday, were all pleased with the results, and many Jacksonville people who attended the service and heard the visitors speak, were greatly impressed with the earnest effort that these consecrated men are putting forth in the laudable work of spreading the gospel. As a result of the services held here there were contributions amounting to $450, which will be expended for the purchase of Bibles. From the supply of Bibles which this sum will purchase 303 will be placed in the hotels and hospitals in this city, 355 in the hotels in nearby small towns and 500 in the new Y. M. C. A. hotel of Chicago. Of the total sum collected $125.56 was raised at the afternoon meeting in the Grand Opera house and is said to have been the largest single contribution at any Gideon service in the state.

Sunday was surely a day long to be remembered in the history of Jacksonville in general and the churches in particular, for it was the day when the Gideons were here and had the key to the churches of the place and right well did they justify the courtesy tendered them. They are a practical set of traveling salesmen, active, energetic, successful in business and at the same time devoted to spreading the good news of the gospel.

According to announcement, the Gideons had the right of way in the pulpit of the churches in the morning and evening there were union services in which nearly all participated, Central Christian, Northminster and Centenary being the places. The services began with a prayer meeting at 8:30 a. m. in the Baptist church and it was an earnest time and refreshing.

At the Grand Opera House.

At 3 p. m. the Grand Opera house was well filled with an audience of men and the services were deeply impressive. The Jeffries band rendered a number of selections and delighted all with their superior music. The singing of Charles F. Allen was also fine and the duet, "Oh Love Divine," by Miss Atena M. Lazene and Mrs. Florence P. Hartmann, with Prof. Stearns accompanying, was very fine and much enjoyed. The grand old hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was sung by the audience, the band accompanying and Mr. Allen leading, and the effect was inspiring. E. L. Vogel of Wheaton, state president of the Gideons, presided and requested Rev. G. W. Flagge of Centenary church to offer prayer. Rev. Percy W. Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the account of the contest the children of Israel under command of Gideon had with the Milianites.

Mr. Vogel spoke in a highly complimentary manner of the Woman's college and the good work of President Harker. He then said he had the honor to introduce Mayor Rodgers as chairman of the afternoon. The audience rose to greet the mayor. He said that the Bible should be the rule and guide of our faith and practice. "We go to the sacred book for guidance in every act of life. It teaches us how to live and how to die. Years ago traveling men used to be regarded as rather hard cases, but a great change has taken place in their ranks and a grand organization has risen up among them and we hope they will break their pitchers as did the followers of Gideon and let their light shine among us."

Mr. Vogel, in responding, paid a compliment to local member Brother L. E. Pitner for the admirable preparations which he had made for the meetings and tendered the thanks of the order to him and F. M. Brewer, proprietor of the Dunlap, for courtesies; to the Chamber of Commerce for the banquet which they gave to the Gideons and ministers Saturday night and providing the opera house; to the Jeffries band for its gift of such superb music; to the press of Jacksonville for generous treatment; to the management of the opera house; Scotts Majestic theatre for advertising the meetings; to the churches and ministers who are ever on hand in all emergencies; to the T. P. A., the U. C. T. and the I. C. M. A., Dr. Harker, the mayor, the ladies for singing and called for a salute which was given, Chas. F. Allen for singing and then said that in Missouri the brewers opposed them but in Jacksonville a Brewer had actually at his own expense placarded his place, the Dunlap House, as their headquarters.

The Blessings of Giving.

J. W. Weakley, Chicago, national secretary, told several affecting stories; one of a young man in Texas who was about to go out from the hotel on a spree when he found a Gideon bible in his room, sat down to read it and was so impressed that he sought a church instead of a saloon. F. G. Thomas, vice president, Freeport, said giving was more blessed to the giver than the receiver. It was wrong to make money for self alone and when we started out to work for God and give Him the increase we would be far better off ourselves. The greatest joy came to those who do the most good.

A touching incident was an address by Joseph Justice, a blind traveling salesman, who lost his sight twelve years ago, but kept right on with his work. He said that some persons had come to a parting of the ways that day; some had reached a point where they would be called on by their consciences to decide for or against Christ and if they said no this time it would be harder to do right the next time the question was pressed home. He told of a meeting which he once attended when a stranger, evidently down, came in and was addressed as brother. The man said no one had called him that before. He was a bartender and was so impressed that he wanted to do better. The Gideons secured him employment and he became a Christian man.

W. A. Huyck, Illinois secretary, read a beautiful poem and then warned the young men to beware of the pool room and all temptations.

An invitation was given to all who would rise and ask for prayers and about twenty complied and they were requested to wait till after the meeting for consultation.

Liberal Collections.

A collection was then taken, the mayor leading with $20, and $123.56 was received. Prayer and the benediction by Rev. F. B. Madden ended the exercises.

The total of collections, including the churches, was about $450. This will be used in placing Bibles as follows: Dunlap house, 65; Douglas hotel, 50; Pacific hotel, 62; Grand hotel, 48; Wabash Station hotel, 14; Proffit house, 16; Union hotel, 12; Y. M. C. A., 10; Passavant hospital, 32; Dr. Day's hospital, 14—in all, 323. In the hotels in other nearby places, 305, and 500 in the Y. M. C. A. hotel in Chicago, making a grand total of 1,128.

There are now some 25,000 Gideon Bibles in the state and the slogan is 100,000 for the year. April 23-30 there is to be a state convention at Galesburg and from it much is expected.

Mr. Vogel spoke at the State School for the Deaf at 10 a. m. yesterday and at 3:30 p. m. left for Alton. Mr. Weakley, national secretary, left last night for Chicago.

JOSEPH JACKSON OBSERVES EIGHTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY.

Lays Claim to Diestinction of Being Oldest Native Resident of Morgan County.

The venerable Joseph Jackson celebrated his 89th birthday Monday and called at the Journal office during the day. Except for deafness which troubles him greatly, Mr. Jackson seems to be very vigorous. Lameness prevents very rapid movements but still he is able to enjoy life very well. He said he very much enjoyed the articles on Old Jacksonville which appear in the Journal and always read them with interest. He mentioned the fact that when a young man, with two yokes of oxen, he hauled the logs to his father's sawmill to be cut into joists for the building occupied by Henry Knollenberg on the north corner of East State street and the square. He said the wheels of the vehicle he used were sawed off logs with iron bands and the last log was so heavy it broke the wagon.

Mr. Jackson said the building was originally the property of Dr. Basil Gillette, so long a resident of the place afterward owned by O. D. Fitzsimmons on Grove street. Dr. Gillette was the father of Mrs. George M. McConnel, formerly of this city.

Mr. Jackson rightly lays claim to the distinction of being the oldest native resident of the county and he bids fair to be with his loved ones for some time yet.

LARGE BROTHERS CREATE EXCITEMENT

Officer Vieira had an exciting time with Harry and Ed Large about 7 o'clock Monday evening. Officer Vieira paced Harry Large under arrest on the charge of drunkenness. Ed Large interfered with the officer and he was compelled to use his club in a vigorous manner. Ed Large drew a knife and started to carve a few chunks out of Vieira. Pete Settles was commandeered and received a slash from the knife in his right hand. About that time Officer Jordan appeared on the scene and took Ed Large by the nape of the neck and escorted him to the station. Harry Large was taken in by Officer Vieira and both men were locked up. The Larges, it is said, just got out of serving a sentence on the charge of vagrancy. It is probable that they will be incarcerated for some time for this escapade.

The Voice of the Child

Hear me mothers and heed my plea.

I came to you a divine gift.

I am absolutely dependent on you.

Look into my innocent baby face, my two trusting blue eyes and ask yourself—are you performing the duty you owe to my Maker?

Are you giving me the chance to be physically strong, mentally bright and morally clean.

Above all are you sure that my little feet (in their soft, plastic state) are being properly clad?

Look once again—be not too sure.

Am I fretful? Do I walk awkwardly, a pained look upon my face?

Am I inclined to want to sit down? Are my little feet inclined to be ill-shaped?

Then take me to capable men, who, thru years of study and experience, realize the importance of the proper care of growing feet.

Would you neglect my feet, have them ill-shaped, commencing foot-troubles that will torture me all my days, that will interfere with my comfort and happiness all through life?

Then heed my plea; look into my shoe-comfort right now. This is the accepted time.

Will people point you out as a mother whose carelessness cost her child one of its greatest blessings,—good feet?

Think not that I mean other mothers—I am speaking directly to you. Of course you think my feet are all right. But are you absolutely sure? If there remains the slightest doubt in your mind you owe it to humanity and me to have my feet examined and properly fitted by experts.

We use great care in fitting children's feet and carry large assortments of healthful shapes. An exclusive children's footwear department.

MRS. IRVIN STEVENSON DIES AT HOSPITAL MONDAY MORNING

Had Been in Failing Health for Nearly Two Years Past—Funeral Will Be Held Wednesday.

The death of Mrs. Irvin Stevenson Monday morning removed a member of one of the long time families of Morgan county. Mrs. Stevenson had been in failing health for nearly two years past, and the acute ailment from which she died began about five weeks since, when she was removed from her home on South Prairie street to Our Savior's hospital. During the most of that time, as a result of a complication of diseases, the family have realized that there was no hope of recovery and Mrs. Stevenson grew gradually weaker until the end came.

Mrs. Stevenson's maiden name was Kate Clark and she was the daughter of C. W. and Caroline Clark, well known residents of the county, who came to this state from Kentucky. She was born in 1852 and practically all of her life was spent in the Pisgah community and it was only three years ago that she became a resident of Jacksonville. December 14, 1879, the deceased was married to Irvin Stevenson at the home of Mrs. C. M. Duer in the Pisgah neighborhood. Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, a son and daughter dying in infancy, the surviving son being Clark Stevenson, who lives on a farm in the Orleans neighborhood. Mrs. Stevenson leaves also two sisters and a brother; Mrs. Anna Brubaker of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Charles B. Schermerhorn of Chicago and C. L. Clark of Betendorf, Ia.

Mrs. Stevenson was a woman of gentle and retiring spirit, but those who came into close contact with her were well aware of the strength and faithfulness of her character. She early became a member of Pisgah Presbyterian church and during all of her life followed very closely the highest ideals of Christian living. Her church and her home were to her the most important things in life, and she gave herself freely in the service. For the past two or three years it had not been possible for Mrs. Stevenson to take as active a part in religious work as she had done before, but her interest was maintained to the end. During her Jacksonville residence she attended Westminster church, altho she had not moved her membership from Pisgah Presbyterian church, which she loved so well.

The funeral services will be held from the residence, 202 South Prairie street, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

While Jacob was here he and his little brother and sister enjoyed many acts of kindness from Mr. and Mrs. Herman. The article says:

"Dr. Jacob W. Bolotin, of Chicago blind from birth, was one of the thirty school tuberculosis physicians appointed by the City Civil Service Commision. Six weeks ago, 296 persons took the examination. Dr. Bolotin dictated his answers to a 13 year old boy, whose mistakes in spelling and punctuation were counted against him, in spite of this handicap he pased tenth, with an average of 85.4. His duties will be to examine school children for first signs of the insidious disease.

BOARD OF EDUCATION RECORDS APPROVED AT MONDAY MEETING

Messrs. Rodgers, Clampit and Wells Held a Session for the Transaction of Routine Business.

A meeting of the board of education, or a meeting of the majority of the former board of education, just as you are pleased to consider it, was held Monday night at the city council chamber. President Rodgers and Members Clampit and Wells, or former President Rodgers and former Members Clampit and Wells, just as you please to consider them.

But whether it was the board, the former board, or a majority that met, it makes no difference, for the roll was called and the minutes of the previous regular meeting and a special session were read, and the stamp of approval given. Then the three gentlemen (nobody can deny this statement) proceeded to receive the report of Supt. Collins and placed it on file. A motion was made to adjourn, it was properly seconded and declared carried, and whether or not such a motion was possible, the board, or the part of the board, proceeded to adjourn.

METHODISTS PAID HONOR TO BISHOP LAMBUTH

Reception Was Held Sunday Night at Centenary Church—Address by Bishop.

A union service of the three Methodist churches of the city was held at Centenary church Sunday evening, the meeting having been arranged especially because of the presence in the city of Bishop W. R. Lambuth of the Methodist Episcopal church South, who was here as a guest of his cousin, Dr. A. B. Morey.

A reception held in the church parlors at 6:45 o'clock was well attended by members of the various Methodist churches. Rev. G. W. Flagge led in congregational singing and Rev. F. B. Madden, as chairman of the reception service, welcomed Bishop Lambuth on behalf of the united Methodism of the city. Bishop Lambuth then made a brief address, dwelling particularly upon incidents showing the tendency of the great branches of the Methodist church to unite. After the address all of the assemblage passed along the receiving line, which included Dr. Harker, Dr. and Mrs. Morey, Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Flagge, Mrs. F. A. McCarty, the Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Madden, Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Houck, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Theobald, Rev. and Mrs. E. T. Sherman and Rev. C. M. Davis.

The main service of the evening was held in the auditorium at 7:45. Bishop Lambuth was introduced by Dr. Harker, who referred to him as a man of many years' experience in the mission fields, and having thus gained first hand knowledge of the church work in several continents.

Bishop Lambuth spoke on "Winning the World for Christ," telling especially of the work of the Panama religious congress which recently closed, and the resulting good which is hoped for from this gathering.
